DEDICATION

I dedicate this book to the great cloud of witnesses who are willing us on to complete the race as they cheer us home in triumphal procession.

Synopsis:

This 2nd book of this end-times series was released on 1st June 2026. The 1st book, released in 2019, prophesied the beginning of the end-times birthing season written about in the Bible, marking 2020 as the year birthing contractions began for the world. That prophecy was fulfilled by the global pandemic of that year, followed by the 2020's decade that has so far had trauma with the Russia-Ukraine war under the perpetual shadow of global nuclear destruction.

This 2nd book again comes from a leading of the Spirit of God, as with all true prophecy. It looks forward to what we can expect for the remainder of the 2020's decade, and then into the 2030's decade which is the main focus of the book, both in terms of the victory the church will experience, and the parallel tribulations and troubles of the world in these times.

It then more briefly looks into the 2040's and 2050's to complete our present view of the birthing season, all of which are aligned with the Bible prophecy of the horses of the apocalypse, and the words of Jesus that align with it. Through prophecy God wants his church informed in these times and all people led to come to Christ and be saved.

PREFACE

This is now the 2nd book of my prophetic ‘End Times’ series. In writing it I am following a lead of the Holy Spirit, as with the 1st book, and I am specifically instructed to release it on 1 June 2026, exactly seven years after the 1st book.

This is part of the fulfilment of the promise Jesus gave us to prepare us for what is to come...

But when he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he will guide you into all the truth. He will not speak on his own; he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is yet to come (John 16:13).

I therefore write and submit this to you so the Spirit himself can give you your own affirmation of it, as it should be for everything we hear or learn. I therefore recommend you pray and ask him to do just that as you read.

The 1st book is prophecy, focused on the year 2020 with the event that would mark the beginning of the end-times birthing season – which turned out to be the Covid-19 pandemic and the global lockdowns that followed, along with an overview of all the coming decades, in line with a 100 year prophecy that the prophet Bob Jones gave us before he left us in 2014.

NOTE – The fulfilments of the key prophecy of the 1st book in this series is the authentication of this 2nd book, and your cue to take it seriously.

To put that another way: the fulfilment of the prophecy I gave you in the 1st book should be enough to make you give serious consideration to what I am writing to you here because fulfilled prophecy is one way God uses to testify to truth. It is not the only way as we also have scripture, but that too uses prophecy to back up its claims.

The 1st book includes a general understanding of what the scriptures tell us on the end-times, focusing particularly on the transition that is coming from the times of tribulation to the time of wrath.

This 2nd book is also prophecy, released on 1st June 2026, exactly seven years on from the first book. It looks at how the specific prophecy of the 1st book was fulfilled; at what remains for the 2020's decade; at what we can expect and what we need to know for the 2030's decade; and then it goes into more detail of what is to come for the two decades that follow – the 2040's and 2050's.

I realise that for many this whole topic of end-times is scary, as is the Book of Revelation in the Bible. However, Revelation promises a blessing to those that read it, along with a warning of a curse of everything written in the book on anyone that seeks to alter it.

Given the magnitude on the things it contains, it should be no surprise it has been preserved.

I agree, there are some scary things in there. But when you look at it closely, together with other parts of the scriptures, you realise it also contains not just good news, but great news. Or at least, it does for Christians.

For many Christian believers, they are waiting for the things of Revelation to happen, not realising they are already living through part of it, as explained in the 1st book. And, for those parts still to come that get really scary, for each individual they can be avoided, which is good news! To really grasp all this you need to study it, and preferably hear affirmation of the message from God yourself, so that is what this series of books is leading you to do.

When I look back on the 1st book, written in 2019, I wrote it following a leading of the Holy Spirit. Now as we are getting towards a decade on, I can look back and see fulfilment of its major theme of the traumas of the year 2020, but also many secondary confirmations that show me I was writing something that was inspired and went beyond myself – as is always true of genuine prophecy.

For example, I now realise even the cover design was given by inspiration of the Holy Spirit, and even there I find a story unfolding of things I was not aware of when I created it. I will explain this further in this book.

In fact, on writing the 1st book I didn't even realise it would become a series. That was only revealed to me later by the Spirit, after I released it, but I have had to wait for the prompt of the Holy Spirit to write this 2nd book, and I now know there will be four books altogether by the time this series is complete.

In the interim between the books of this series, there will be others; I am assured of that. Between the 1st and 2nd book of this series there have been two. One titled – The Adventure of Prophecy released in January 2026. And the other titled – GRACE WORKS released in May 2026, just before this book. The Adventure book has an evangelistic element to it for those that are not yet Christian, but it is primarily written to activate more believers in the gift of prophecy for the simple reason that in the times we live in, the gift of prophecy will be needed. The same is emphatically true for the second interim book about GRACE that has the keys to the power we will need to live through the end-times.

The Adventure book also contains prophetic elements for our present time; some already fulfilled, that add to the story and provide yet further validation as these prophecies are seen to be fulfilled. That was my 6th book overall, and as I said in there, again through prophetic revelation, the 7th book would be special.

When I got the direction to write this book, I thought it would turn out to be the special one, but when this was nearly finished the Spirit of God interjected the GRACE book as the 7th, which is something special because it holds the keys to live and be victorious through these end-times. So while this book tells you WHAT is coming, the GRACE book tells you HOW to live through it.

The GRACE book is also freely available on my website, as for all my Christian books, or it can be purchased as a hard copy.

So, the purpose of these books is not to scare anyone, but quite the opposite; To make sure we Christians are informed and understand the times we live in so we will have peace and not be alarmed by the tribulations of the world.

For those that are not yet Christian, this book will inevitably be scary, but the message to you is clear – BECOME A CHRISTIAN. Give your life to Christ and become his disciple. Then you will also share the peace and security we informed Christians have, along with every other benefit Christians have, including life after this one. For that reason I include an Appendix that tells you how – something that appears in all of my Christian books.

Of course I will be referring back to the 1st book of the series quite often, and repeating some selective key parts of it here because these books are linked. So it may be helpful for you to read that book first, though if your immediate desire is to know what comes next in the world, and what is still to come, then this is the book that will most likely give you the answers you are looking for, so you may prefer to read this book first.

Trevor Maddison

1. Introduction

As we are in the seventh year of the 2020's decade (i.e. 2026), I am led to write this 2nd book of the end-times series and release it exactly 7 years on from the first one.

This was never my plan when I wrote the 1st book – to write a series, but I have come to realise it was and is God's plan and I am just doing my best to stay in step with his Spirit and do what he says.

As the 2nd book in the series, this gives me a chance to reflect on the prophetic message of the previous book (the black book) that was released in 2019, which was focused primarily on the year 2020, but also secondarily on what was and is to come in the 2020's decade, and the decades beyond through to the 2050's.

As we now have the benefit of hindsight on the year 2020, and the majority of the 2020's decade, that message now serves as an authentication and foundation for what I now have to share with you through the fulfilment of the prophecy it contains.

That will help you decide whether or not to take this message seriously and trust it.

Jesus said – My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me (John 10:27).

And – The children of God are led by the Spirit of God (Rom 8:14).

Whenever prophecy is given, it requires God to affirm it for it to be of any use to us. Only the children of God have the capacity to hear that. Without that this is just another opinion in a sea of voices in our times, so prophecy is written for those that can hear and recognise God for themselves, and so have their own means of affirmation.

When I wrote the 1st book I didn't have specific knowledge of the details of what was coming, but I was shown there would be a 'watershed' event that would initiate what I called a 'sea change' in world affairs in 2020, and it would mark the beginning of the end-time birthing season for the world.

What transpired was the global Covid-19 pandemic that led to an unprecedented year of lockdowns for more than half the population of the world, including the church, which was unexpected, and unprecedented.

Following that, there was about a year of relative normality, and then Russia attacked Ukraine, expecting a quick victory, which has led to a war that has been raging ever since through the decade, drawing in much of the world in some capacity.

The war initially caused a great deal of fear and trepidation through the threat of going nuclear with the potential for global destruction, so it was and is a big deal.

As a key part of the message of the 2020 book, I was led to include a prophecy of a well-known seer/prophet by the name of Bob Jones. Before he left us in 2014, age 84, he gave us his ultimate '100 year prophecy' that covered some details of each decade from the 1950's to the 2050's.

Bob Jones was one of those rare prophetic people that testify to having died and come back from death, or a near-death experience, where they are given a commission by God to bring back a specific message or ministry to the world. In his case he actually died and was sent back as a prophet.

As is always the case for prophecy, the words of this prophet have at times been controversial because true prophecy never submits to the 'Spirit of the Age' that would seek to suppress and control it. This prophet was just an ordinary guy in many ways, that just said what he heard from the Spirit of God in obedience, regardless of the fallout. That was just the kind of person God needed to deliver his message, and that 100 year prophecy was his ultimate message that I was led to pick up and carry forward in this series of books.

The Apostle Paul was like this in many ways, having been caught up in an unusual experience of the 'third heaven' where he even saw or heard things that man is not permitted to tell.

For myself, in my 20's, though I didn't die, I had a prophetic glimpse of an experience of heaven, followed by certain prophetic revelations of heaven that were given to me since then, mostly through hearing prophetically but strongly backed by revelations of the scriptures.

For any of you that are doubtful about hearing prophetically, try reading the Adventure book I referred to earlier. It selectively recounts my experience of this very thing over nearly 5 decades, so it was written partly to support my claim here, along with the 1st book of the series.

This vision and experience of heaven I mentioned was enough to alter my trajectory and priorities in life, so my first goal is to pass this on to you, praying it has a similar impact on you, as this is a key revelation to take us through the end-times that are fast approaching, and in fact are here as we are now in that birthing season where birthing contractions have begun for the world.

The first book mentions all the decades that the 100 year prophecy spoke of, but here I want to concentrate mainly on the remainder of the 2020's decade we are now in, and the 2030's that come next, though I will take more than a glance at what comes after that.

It is God's intention that we are like the sons of Issachar, mentioned in 1 Chronicles 12:32, who 'understood the times and knew what Israel ought to do', rather than be 'caught unaware' of the times we live in. The overriding purpose of these events is to reap a last-days harvest of souls for Christ, so for that reason, to be useful to him, we need to be well informed of what God is doing as he allows the world to be shaken so they can be brought in.

The first book not only focused on the prophecy for 2020, but it also expounded key parts of the end-times scriptures that are relevant to us, including particularly the 'four horsemen of the apocalypse' as some have called them.

The message is, we live in the times of tribulation that precede the times of God's wrath. And the 1st book showed all born again believers must be out of here by either death or rapture before that time of wrath comes (1 Thes 1:10, 5:9).

Regarding the prophecy for 2020 that marked the beginning of the birthing season, I was shown this was keyed to the world reaching a global population number (the 10x7s number), and although I wasn't given a specific date, I was able to make a rough calculation of when that population number would be reached from the various world population datasets available on the internet.

However, there was more than one source of world population data available, and they didn't exactly agree, so there was a certain amount of choice and 'guestimation' from me. That led me to estimate the time would come in the mid 6 months of 2020. However, when it finally came it occurred around 23 March 2020, though there were some lockdowns even earlier than that. Most of the world followed suit soon after that date, with the USA coming in as one of the last to implement lockdown in early April 2020, just within the time window I had calculated.

I was careful to point out that this was a derived date on my part, and not one given specifically through prophecy as that only gave me the population marker. What I believe from the way it actually happened is, there are a few more people on the planet than the population estimates suggest, which in hindsight should be an expected result as there are some births in less developed countries that bypass the official records.

The lockdowns turned out to be the perfect thing to make busy people stop their busy lives and think carefully about life and destiny. With the internet now well established, that gave them an unlimited source of information that God used to bring many to Christ.

What we can now understand is – the pandemic of 2020 was the first birthing contraction that made us realise the birth prophesied in the scriptures is imminent (Rom 8:22).

What then followed the pandemic lockdowns was a relative year of normality, which is analogous to the respite period that comes between contractions as the birthing progresses.

Then on 24 February 2022 the Russia-Ukraine war began, which can be seen as another end-times birthing contraction, with Russia expecting a quick victory.

That war has continued and is still ongoing, but then I was shown the year 2026 would be different in some ways. On 5 January 2026 I was given a prophetic image of a Ski Jumper ready to jump and raring to go, with the crowd below cheering him on – see my Adventure book released in that month. I was shown that this was pointing to breakthrough in the wars and conflicts that are in progress in the world before the 2026 Winter Olympics event that was just one month away, where the reaction of the crowd represented the coming reaction of the world to these world events.

Then on 8 January 2026 I received a further prophetic message that 2026 would be a year of 'glorious revolution' – a term taken from the year 1688 when the Dutch king William of Orange came over to become the King of England and thereby consolidate England as a protestant nation. The reference to the colour orange there has prophetic relevance, as that is the colour of gold, and glory.

After several years of deadlock in the Russia-Ukraine war, on 5 February 2026 – the day before the Winter Olympics began, a way was found to cut off the unregistered Starlink satellite systems the Russians were using that had been smuggled into the country, whilst allowing Ukraine to continue to use theirs. Then some Ukrainians, posing as Starlink reps, offered to reconnect the Russians for a price, so the desperate Russians sent them the serial numbers and details of all their Starlink terminals and paid the fee. This guaranteed that none of these Russian systems will ever work for them again, and with no refund.

At the same time Putin got an attack of paranoia about some of the news that was being transmitted between Russians on social media about him and his failings in the war, and duly shut that down too, severing all the main communication systems of the Russian army. From there the Ukrainian army began pushing forward as the Russians were effectively blind and unable to communicate, and that is how it has been progressing ever since.

At the same time this breakthrough happened for Ukraine, the forces of the USA were gathering in the Persian Gulf ready to strike Iran, which began on 28 February 2026.

Given that the first prophetic word I received on 5

January 2026 was definitely fulfilled, we have more reasons than ever to believe the prophetic message from the 8 January 2026 – that 2026 will come to be seen as the year of ‘glorious revolution’. As such the year 2026 is like another respite between birthing contractions where the rogue states and evil forces in the world have been pushed back, and to a great degree stopped.

But, that doesn’t mean the birthing contractions will not continue in this decade of the 2020’s. After this year of 2026 there are still 3 more years to go before the end of the 2020’s decade, and we can be sure there will be more tribulations in it to be faced as the prophecy for this decade continues to be fulfilled.

One thing I must reiterate from the 1st book is that the 100 year prophecy prophesied the 2020’s decade would be a decade of ‘rest’. However, I explained that these prophecies of the decades are only applicable to what God is releasing to the Church, not the world. For the world, what we can expect is the very opposite of these things, so these prophecies do give away the truth of what will be happening in the world at the same time.

The ‘rest’ that is spoken of here is the same kind of rest that Jesus had when he was sleeping in the boat while the storm was raging around them (Matt 8:23-27). So while the storms in the world are raging, the Church will be resting, confident that God is in control.

In the same way, it is key to understand that what we can expect for every decade prophesied is – while the Church is blessed by God, the world will be experiencing something quite opposite to what is happening in the Church.

Later we will use this fact to show what we can expect in every future decade covered in these books. For the 2020's, while the Church is experiencing rest because it understands the times, despite the troubles, the world will be very restless and fearful, not understanding the times they live in or what is happening around them.

It is this disparity between world and Church that will make the people of the world realise the Church is so different as it has answers, assurances, and security from God, and this will serve to draw people towards the Church, and towards salvation, as part of the last-days harvest.

One thing I should emphasize now as I am using the term 'Church' is that there I am not necessarily meaning the organised church, which is a different thing. Rather I am talking about the collective global body of all true born again believers – the body of Christ. However, of course, they gather in organised churches, but that can vary greatly in how much they comprise of the Church who are the body of Christ, and how much they actually do the will of God.

To complete my introduction, let me just reiterate the key point here – We have a prophecy from a proven modern-day prophet, given by the Spirit of God, that showed the Church what to expect for each decade up to the 2050's. And from that we can understand what will also be happening in the world at the same time will be the very OPPOSITE to what is happening in the Church. That is the main premise of this book.

Trevor Maddison

2. This Kairoi Year

What we can expect for all the end-times decades to come is continued birthing contractions, but also continued respites between the contractions where we will see many ‘reversals’.

These reversals are times when the tribulations of the world are seen to be halted, pushed back, and turned for good; where evil is pushed back in the world, as they appear to be to some measure at the time of writing in mid-2026.

These are times for people to take a breather, reflect, consider, and make decisions about their lives. Sometimes the paralysis of fear can stop people acting as they need to, so these are periods of grace where the world and every person in it gets to stop and consider its future.

Shortly after I released the Adventure book in January 2026, and saw the fulfilment of some of the prophecy I wrote about there in February 2026, I had another prophetic word concerning the remainder of 2026 and beyond.

I was reminded of the original Greek Bible word – ‘Kairos’. This word refers to a ‘critical time’ or ‘appointed season’ in God’s sovereign plan; often used in the Bible in the context of end-times, appearing 86 times in the New Testament.

I was then led to look up the plural form of the word, which is ‘Kairoi’ and I was told prophetically this year of 2026 is a ‘Kairoi Year’. This means this year of 2026 is a year of many Kairos moments.

With this I was shown an accompanying vision of a calendar, showing all the months and days of the year 2026. For the first half of the year the days were coloured white, but here and there in all of these months were days coloured orange. As these months progressed, the number of orange days were increasing, and then when it came to the middle months of the year and the latter months, from the beginning of July onwards, suddenly all of the days became orange.

I could also see part way into 2027 where these entirely orange days continued into that year, but then after a few months the calendar faded from my view, so I could see no end to it, and I had a sense this ‘orange’ was how all days would continue to be from now on in these end-times.

What I was led to understand from all this was – we are experiencing days in this year of 2026 where there are Kairos moments. These are days when very significant things happen in the world. Good things. Things of God. Some of these things are prophecies, and others are fulfilments, as are the specific ones I have already mentioned. They are also days where something highly significant happens on the world stage. As this is a Kairos year, these kind of events will accelerate, so from the middle of the year onwards they will be happening daily.

To put this another way, now we are into the seventh year of the end times birthing season, God is about to step things up in a way that no-one can miss or deny.

I believe this vision fits with the message that 2026 is a year of glorious revolution. The orange days are in fact golden, rather than orange, and days of God's fire and glory. So these are days where God is on the move in unprecedented ways, and with a frequency that the world can't help but sit up and take notice.

When Jesus arrived on the scene it was John the Baptist that announced him. Later Jesus said it was the spirit of Elijah upon him, even though he didn't do the same kind of works as Elijah. Those works of power were reserved in his case for Jesus who would follow. But John went on as the herald of this new move of God by saying – I only baptise you with water... but he will baptise you with the Holy Spirit and fire. (Matt 3:11).

What I am speaking of therefore, with these golden days of fire that are coming, is baptism, where again the spirit of Elijah steps up in these end-times, this time in a different form, expressed through the whole body of believers that are called to carry that fire.

What we are set to see as we come into the second half of this year of 2026; one month after the release of this book, is the beginning of a new deluge of the fire of God upon the Church to activate them for the end-times. Now, in the seventh year of the birthing season, is the right time.

The prophet Elijah had a speciality, and it was fire. With it he humiliated the prophets of Baal; he burned up those that were sent to apprehend him until they begged for mercy; and he ascended in a chariot of fire into heaven to await his next assignment. But his spirit is already here, again, this time in the body of Christ that have been baptised in fire. Now in these end-times it is their time to step up and do those works that will cleanse the very ground where they walk. This is how the last-days harvesters will work.

It is true that in these last days the people of the world will feel fear and insecurity that makes many of them seek God, but they will also be impressed and impacted by the power of God as it is revealed to them through the Church.

I believe through all this, many will realise God is real and in control of everything, despite the troublesome times. So through it all many will come to believe in, and be harvested for, the Kingdom of God.

3. Heaven

Before we go further looking at the events of this world, I want to give you a chapter on heaven where I will try to pass on the vision and desire I have for it.

This is a necessary thing because Jesus tells us we must always look up, watching and waiting for his coming (Luke 21:28). If our vision of heaven is poor we will not do this so we need to ask God to make us more aware of our heavenly destiny, and more ready for it.

First of all, the citizens of heaven are simply those that are born again of the Spirit of God. They are new creatures, changed inwardly and completely, even if their minds have not yet been fully transformed to conform to that new spiritual identity. These ones collectively is what heaven recognises as the Church, rather than the organised church which the world sees, so every reference to Church in this book is normally to reference to this spiritual Church of God that gathers in a variety of different organised groups and forms.

Knowing your true spiritual identity is key to maturing into the complete person God always designed you to be, which includes your mind and every other faculty of your being.

There is a key verse that is relevant to your spiritual rebirth which says – ‘But the Jerusalem that is above is free, and she is our mother.’ (Gal 4:26). When we look at the original ancient Greek text for ‘born again’ that term can actually be translated in two ways, both valid. The other way is to say we are 'born from above'. To put that together we can say we are 'born again from above'. The New Jerusalem is the Jerusalem above, which is heaven, and we are told this city is our 'mother'. That means when we are born again we are born from her by the Spirit of God, so she is then our home city. We are also told that God will actually write the name of that city on every believer that is born from there, as all true believers are (Rev 3:12).

To go to her is not to go somewhere new or foreign to us. It is to go home. Home to where we know we belong. Home to the place God inhabits. Home to the place where we experience the full comfort and care of a mother, where we know we are valued beyond anything we can fully comprehend.

Those who have a revelation of this have a longing to go there, especially in times of trouble or strife.

The next thing to realise is the New Jerusalem is not a city as we find in this world. She is a living city. As such she is a real place of intimacy. The kind of intimacy that all of us really crave for, but that is at best only glimpsed in this world.

The gold that paves the streets is symbolic of the faith of the citizens of that city that overlays everything. So when we walk the streets of the city, the glorious faith of those we encounter there rises up through our feet to establish us.

In heaven everything is shared. When we touch or just walk past the jewels there, that symbolise the fruit of the Spirit, we experience the love, joy, peace, and other fruits of those people of whom that living city is comprised. At the same time others also experience you – your faith; your fruit; and are continually blessed, comforted, and loved by you through it.

Real intimacy that has depth is a rare thing in this world, but all of us crave it. Both with God and with each other to whom we are all so profoundly connected. We may not realise it until we experience it, but it is what all of us really want above all things, both with God and each other.

More people than we realise have either visited heaven, or had visions of it. But there are some things there that cannot be experienced in their fullness, but only at best shown to us, because to experience them will mean such a yearning to remain, we can't bear to leave.

This is true of the river of life – we can't experience it now. When we find ourselves filled and overflowing with inexpressible and glorious joy, as Peter described it, we come as close as is possible for mortals to entering and experiencing this river, but even that is only a token experience of the real thing – as much as we can stand and still live on in this world.

The same is true for those that eat the fruit of the trees there that bring deep and profound healing and health (Rev 22:2). Or for those that see the face of God that no description of mere words can come close to (Ps 17:15).

However bad the things of this world can be, we are led to realise that heaven will far outweigh all of it by its goodness, beyond anything we can think or imagine.

These words about heaven are the best I can offer you here, though if you go to God and ask him for it, he may well give you a measure of experience that will serve to equip you for living for him in this world. But realise there is a limit to it here and the moment you step into heaven every word I have spoken here about it will be obsolete and forgotten because it's reality is so immeasurably far above any description.

For many, they are drawn into the pursuit of 'paradise now' because they don't have enough vision of heaven to come. However, becoming aware of heaven is a life changing experience. It will change your priorities in life and make you ready and willing to sacrifice everything in this world for it. I therefore can't stress enough how important it is to seek God and get your own heavenly vision.

4. The Black Horse Decade

Let's get back to looking at our present times.

Now we are substantially into the 2020's decade it has become clear this is a decade where the black horse is again riding north, as it has before through the centuries, but is now on a final lap as we are now into the birthing season. This is the predominant horse of the apocalypse for the 2020's decade, and it may be its final ride before the times of tribulation and the great tribulation at the end are complete.

This is partially covered in the first book, and is taken from a comparison of Revelation 6:5-6 in the New Testament, and Zechariah 6:6 in the Old Testament. Revelation tells us what the black horse does, and Zechariah tells us the direction it takes – starting at Israel where all scripture is focused:

(Rev 6:5-6) 5 When the Lamb opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature say, "Come!" I looked, and there before me was a black horse! Its rider was holding a pair of scales in his hand. 6 Then I heard what sounded like a voice among the four living creatures, saying, "Two pounds of wheat for a day's wages, and six pounds of barley for a day's wages, and do not damage the oil and the wine!"

(Zech 6:6) The one with the black horses is going toward the north country, the one with the white horses toward the west, and the one with the dappled horses toward the south."

Russia has been the dominant theme of the 2020's. Moscow, the capital of Russia, is in fact directly north of Israel within a very small margin, and is the furthest country from Israel in the northerly direction.

As we see from Zechariah, it is the black horse that heads north.

Let's be clear that all the horses of the apocalypse have been active throughout the centuries, as they are currently active in the world in our times. But like many prophetic scriptures, they have increasing and manifold levels of fulfilment so we can expect to see the evils they represent increasing and climaxing as we approach the time of the end, and the final birthing.

The parallel is clear between all the evils in the world that Jesus spoke of (Matt 24, Mark 13, Luke 21), and the evils that come through the horses of the apocalypse (Rev 6), so they are pointing to the same thing.

These horses are not a one-time occurrence at the end as some think, but they are seen throughout history in this era of the world, with increasing effect as we come towards the end of the era.

It is as if the horses run their course in the world, and then keep repeatedly resetting for another lap. Their purpose is to cause tribulation – which means trouble, with increasing intensity for each lap, where the final lap is the most intense of all and is known as 'The Great Tribulation'.

It is easy to see how history has been repeating itself in many respects, and we are told by Jesus that the kind of events they were seeing in his day would continue to the end.

As we have now entered the birthing season that will bring the culmination of the age, what we can expect to see is all of the horses set for the final lap, each in their turn, and for each of them we can expect to see the greatest fulfilment of their purpose that must eclipse all that has gone before in history.

Therefore we can't take the horses in the specific order of Rev 6, and in fact when they are listed in Zechariah it is in a different order. Though there is one notable detail that will come up later – that is the green horse in both cases of these scriptures comes last.

What we in fact find is that at any one time, one of the horses seems to be significantly more prominent in the world than the others according its prophesied effects, and in the 2020's decade we can now see that it is clearly the black horse and Russia.

Putting this together with the 100 year prophecy, this prophecy proceeds decade by decade, and from the 2020's to the 2050's we can see that there are exactly four decades (i.e. 40 years) left, with one horse predominant in each.

As we proceed we will come to align each of these horses with one of these decades, as we have with the black horse for the 2020's. But remembering that this is just the most prominent horse for that decade; the one that is catching the headlines, so the others will still be active but to a less prominent degree.

Generally we should understand that these horses release evil things into the world. That is simply by God relaxing his restraint on the evils they represent. Rather than see this as something God is sending, we should see it as something evil that God has restrained that is waiting for an opportunity for release so it can work its evil.

God allows that release in a measured way for every lap so he can turn and use it for good, and before the end the full expression of all these horses must be seen in what has been called The Great Tribulation which happens during the birthing season, and should not to be mistaken for the time of wrath.

The entities of the evil realm have a bloodlust and a lust for the suffering of humanity. If they are given a chance to pursue that desire, they find themselves unable to resist. That is why, in events such as WW2, they are frequently seen to go too far, too quickly, even to their own destruction. They prefer the short term gratification of their hatred than to act strategically and risk losing the opportunity altogether. As they know God is in overall control, not them, they know this can happen.

When these hordes get the scent of blood, even Satan has difficulty restraining them because personal gratification is high on their priority list, which Satan has to manage.

The purpose of the black horse is to bring scarcity to Russia. In this case, in the Russia-Ukraine war, the hard-hearted pride of leaders is leading them on to continue fighting until they are totally depleted and unable to make war, thereby fulfilling the purpose of the black horse.

As with the Egyptian Pharaoh in the time of Moses, each time Moses spoke to him he hardened his heart. But then there came the time when it says – God hardened Pharaoh's heart. From that time on he was headed for destruction. The same is true of the Russian leaders at this time, and just recently I received a prophetic warning that 8 May 2026, which would normally be a national day of celebration of VE day of WW2, was the last chance for them to humble themselves, stop the war, and withdraw their forces. With that declined, we will move into the equivalent of the last and worst plague which for Egypt was the death of their firstborn, which finally brought capitulation, though even after that Pharaoh chased the Israelites to the Red Sea to his own destruction.

Each time Russia even contemplates capitulation in the war, their hard-hearted pride pushes them on. And something always comes along to tempt them to keep fighting through some glimmer of false hope of victory, which may even be engineered by the nations they are fighting. In fact those nations don't really want it to stop, but want them to keep fighting until they bring Russia to a place where they are so depleted, they can't easily make any more trouble.

Then when the rest of the world has them disabled they will act to make sure they don't rise again so they can return to their warring ways. This will work for a while, with oil sourced elsewhere so it won't be touched or wanted, and the sanctions placed on all their other products will make most nations unwilling to touch them or trade with them.

Despite the fact that Russia should be a prospering nation, as they were becoming before this war. As a consequence of the black horse riding north they gravitate back to living with scarcity on a staple diet only, with little of luxury for the ordinary Russians.

We are told this black horse is exclusive to this northern direction towards the end, unlike the other horses that go throughout the whole world, even if they have been given a primary direction. This means these consequences will be focused only on Russia in this last season, while other nations of the world are relatively prosperous.

Does this mean the black horse is finished and will no longer make trouble? The answer is YES in their present capacity, but also NO in that they will still have a hand in what is coming, as will be discussed for a later decade.

As the 2020's is the decade where the black horse is prominent, the 1st book in this series is the 'BLACK BOOK'. As we have said, that doesn't mean all the evils of the other horses are not active in the world, but they are just less prominent for this decade.

Before we move on and get to the 2030's decade that is our main focus in this book, let me just preview a later section of the book on Designing the Cover.

It is best to remember that this is a prophetic book rather than a book of analysis that makes logical predictions. In the same way the Bible foretells, that is also the purpose of this book – much of it as an expansion of the Bible scriptures, as you will have noticed.

As such, even the cover design was a prophetic download that I was simply given by inspiration of the Spirit of God. The way it was created was – I simply had the vision of it in my mind and then created it, tweaking it until I had the same kind of affirmation about it that I get for all prophecy. It should not be surprising therefore that it contains prophetic information I was not even aware of when I created it. But we will get into that in a later section.

5. The Spirit Of The Age

One thing we have not discussed for the 2020's decade we are now in, is the way the spirit of the age has manifested.

In truth this has probably been the most shocking thing in the 2020's, even beyond the pandemic and the wars. This spirit has been revealed in this decade as never before, which is consistent with the fact we are in the end-times birthing season where evil is allowed to have greater expression than ever before. And this is only the beginning.

Working behind the scenes in this world, seeking for greater and greater expression, are UNLCEAN SPIRITS.

They are unclean because they have been cut off from God so they have become the very opposite of God, who is HOLY.

That uncleanness is worked out in various ways, but one significant way that always crops up is sexual deviance, sexual perversion, and sexual obsession.

Not so long ago there were terms used quite often by psychiatrists, which are 'gender confusion', or similarly 'gender dysphoria'. These terms are to some degree self-explanatory – that it is a form of confusion or unease, but they are terms few now seem to use because of suppression by the spirit of the age that doesn't want us to recognise them.

What we have seen in this decade is a concerted attempt to redefine those conditions as normal, and suggest it is not therefore a condition at all. Later we will discuss what the Bible calls spiritual footholds and strongholds. When we look behind the scenes with sexual issues, this is almost invariably what is happening. These unclean spirits are seeking to establish strongholds.

One problem these unclean spirits have is they are never satisfied. One level of perversion therefore generates a burning desire for more in those people that are captured by them, and that generally goes as far as it can, even to the point of self-destruction.

I will decline to mention the depths of depravity that such perversion can reach, but it is written into history for those that want to research it. I remember reading of how when some modern day archaeologists and anthropologists looked into the practices of some ancient peoples, what it revealed was enough to make even them blush, despite having seen the worst of the world's horrors of the past. This was said about the Canaanite nations for one, and some of that has been written about in the Bible when God saw fit to bring judgement on them, to cull evil in the earth before it exploded.

On the other hand, there is no doubt that homophobia is a thing, where those who have such problems are mercilessly punished and persecuted by those that don't. Such a path is not a solution, but probably the only option the world feels it has to such a problem. But the real problems come when those with such issues start to promote their condition as normal, rather than as a psychological or even spiritual condition.

There is no doubt that while homophobic actions have used persecution to try to stamp out those problems in the past, those actions have provoked an inevitable reaction in those that have them, who don't know how change even if they wanted to, but are only able at best to suppress it. As a condition, it has a spiritual dimension that only empowered believers in Christ can really deal with through the deliverance ministry, so for the ordinary person that has it and doesn't know where to get help, their only option is to either cope with it, or accept it.

That has led to campaigns to get it accepted as normal. But that in turn has led to the escalation of the numbers of those who have developed those conditions, and to a radical increase in the numbers of those that are dominated by spiritual strongholds.

That expansion has to a large degree taken place under the political banner of DEI – Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (or equivalent) – where many have even taken it into schools and colleges in a quest to normalise it, even with children that are innocent and would not otherwise even think of these things had it not been forced upon them.

That has been so shocking for many parents, it has provoked a counter reaction, even among those who don't have faith or any belief in the spiritual battle behind it. After four years of a government in the USA under Joe Biden where they pushed further and further down that road, that counter reaction has taken place in the USA since 2024 by electing a president with more normal values by a landslide – Donald Trump. But in the UK, Europe, and other countries that problem has still not been fully recognised or addressed by those in power, and there now exists a stronghold of it over the mainstream media.

When Biden was elected I firmly believe the election was stolen by voter mail fraud. When that happened my reaction was – Now we get see what happens when a government is elected through corruption. And sure enough, in that regard it exceeded all expectations. You see, the role of a national leader has a God given anointing to it to lead and do the will of God in a nation. But when there is corruption like this, it opens a door to evil. That corruption may express itself in various ways. In this case it was through some real moral perversions.

Those behind this were deceived to firmly believe what they had was/is a higher form of morality, based primarily on diversity, to the point where they became blind to its moral corruption. It has been named as part of the woke ideology, where the word woke was intended to convey some kind of epiphany on true morality.

When people become godless, they lose sight of true morality, so they have to invent their own, and this is the result. Of course, they don't admit it, but this is the spirit of the age blinding them and taking them over so it can use them to do its will of bringing evil and perversion on all that is good, as they themselves have been perverted.

During this period of DEI obsession, many people with problems made their way into positions of influence, both in politics and business, where they are trying to use their power to promote their cause. That led to every hobgoblin getting jobs and promotions all in the name of diversity, according to the satanic agenda. The battle over this is therefore not won, even if it has been pushed back for a while by a reversal at this time, so in these end-times we can be sure it is going to raise its ugly head again, and undoubtedly become even worse.

This is something intercessors need to address to hold back the tide, as this is a spiritual battle for sure.

For those that have been drawn into the deception of the spirit of the age on this, let me cite a few revealing facts.

Leanne Payne was a prophetic person and ministry that I followed, who perpetually warned of these things, and offered ministry to those that had these problems who realised the danger they were in. Of them it is reckoned as many as 50% of these people came out of those sexually deviant conditions and overcame what was dominating them, proving her point about gender confusion as a psychological and spiritual condition.

When we look back in history, we see some things we can learn from. The Spartans were a warrior people up to about 300 BC, but they developed a problem that their men came to the point of no longer wanting normal relations with women, but wanting men instead, to the point where it was even threatening their population. The authorities tried to overcome the problem by getting the women to dress more like men and young boys, but, as we know, that nation was soon defeated and disappeared altogether. What this tells us is this is not a genetic condition, but learned behaviour, so things are not as simple as those who promote them try to claim.

Did God judge the Spartans? Maybe. He is certainly seen to cull evil from the world when it threatens to get out of hand. That is certainly what happened for Sodom and Gomorrah and others that went down that same road and were taken over by it.

Finally, to cite another revealing fact on sexual issues. The prophet Bob Jones whose 100 year prophecy features heavily in this series of books, had a vision in 1975 that included the coming of a homosexual disease. This is denied by some, but I remember seeing video of him speaking about it. What happened was HIV and AIDS emerged in about 1981, which killed many people, including many in the homosexual community where, to begin with at least, it seemed focused.

What is needed in our time is for people to learn this lesson well. That if the ideas of normality of these spiritual conditions are not checked, it will escalate and explode because that is the agenda of the spiritual forces behind it. Christians also need to be at the forefront of this battle, in prayer, intercession, offering deliverance, and winning those souls to Christ, releasing them from the problems they have been caught up in, if they are willing.

To overcome the spirit of the age in these times it is essential that Christians step up with the gospel to hold back the tide of sin, perversion, and evil.

Is that the only expression of the spirit of the age?

Not at all. Satan is happy to get on both sides of a war or conflict if he can.

For those who live in western society who have these problems, imagine how Muslims see them. They see the perversion and corruption, and believe they have the answer of dominating such people by their strict law, often with the threat of death.

That is something that some in the west may come to agree with, especially when they see the perversion getting out of hand. But Islam also brings with it the demand to worship their God, their way, and they are also commissioned to fight, subdue, and even kill any that don't conform, which includes those that believe Jesus is God come in the flesh and so worship him. To them Christians are idolaters when they do that, so here is where it gets complicated.

Muslims don't have the power to deliver anyone from the grip of demons because, unknowingly or not, they are in league with the spirit of the age themselves with their false religion. Law is in fact the principle of this world, and is referred to that way by the Apostle Paul in the Bible.

For Christians, law and legalism is a false gospel and a curse (Gal 1:6), even though many have those beliefs, but the problem is it too is powerless (Gal 3:5). Only the true gospel of grace has the power we are talking about, or indeed the power to change lives for real rather than just suppress evil, as Islam does.

For the grace of God has appeared that offers salvation to all people. 12It teaches us to say “No” to ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright and godly lives in this present age (Titus 2:11-12)

In fact Islam is the perfect example of the effect of living under the principle of law. Though you would think law resolves sin, it actually stimulates sin in the heart but then suppresses it and refuses to admit it, and even changes the values of goodness for evil. This is why Islam produces such ugliness in places where it becomes extreme. It too is part of the spirit of the age.

This topic of law and grace is vital for all Christians to understand so it requires more study, and revelation. For that reason I was led to write the book – GRACE WORKS by Trevor Maddison and release it before this book. It can be found free on my website.

Another unmistakable and primary expression of the spirit of the age is antisemitism. This is a satanic thing that has been raging through the age, that doesn't even make sense, but defies all reason.

For example, look at the places where it is prevalent. Radical Islam is bitterly opposed to Israel, and at the same time Islam is opposed to the LGBTQ community, who also support the Islamic extremists opposing them because they too are at root anti-Semitic, despite the fact they would be put to death under Islamic law for their sexual deviance. This proves that antisemitism is the key underlying ideology driving it all.

The hatred of Hitler and Germany towards the Jews around WW2 is another example of the spirit of the age at work where again antisemitism was the key driver. Again it was satanic, and again it was irrational, with the Jews targeted as the cause of all that is wrong and evil in the world. It was probably this that made Hitler foolishly press forward to attack the Soviet Union, given that so many Jews lived in those lands. It was that same satanic bloodlust that was driving them on, even to their own destruction.

Today that cause has become deeply rooted in the United Nations organisation as an obsession, where nothing else seems to matter to them but the persecution and destruction of Israel. The balancing arguments that Israel have been subject to genocidal attacks since they were formed, and so have been forced to develop a regime to defend themselves, is constantly ignored in favour of this hateful and obsessive agenda.

The real truth of all this is there is satanic hatred behind it that sees the destruction of Israel as a main objective, where their bloodlust comes to a fever pitch.

That may be because the reformation of Israel is a clear Biblical fulfilment of prophecy, so it bears testimony to the truth about God. For a long time, prior to 1948 when Israel was reformed as a nation, the evil realms felt they had proved God wrong in this, as they are desperate to do in at least something – though without success.

The fact that the re-formation of Israel has fulfilled prophecy reminds them that their time is short, and God will fulfil every prophetic word that has been spoken through his Spirit, including that evil will end up destroyed in the lake of fire.

As for modern Israel, the majority are now atheistic or agnostic, so they are not even on-board with the Jewish faith. Of course, there are a minority of religious Jews there, as there are Christians, but their general atheism is a consequence of the holocaust which caused many of them to lose their faith.

Actually this time of big trouble for Israel in the holocaust was prophesied in the Bible, calling it 'Jacob's trouble' (Jer 30:7), including the restoration of the nation of Israel that would follow in the same chapter, but they don't yet see it.

So far they don't understand that God has been fighting for them, and will continue to do so, as the Bible says, until the full number of Gentiles have come in. Then, at least for a remnant, their hearts will be softened by God to see the truth of Jesus as their long awaited Messiah that they missed (Zech 12:10, Rom 9:27), and many of those that are left will turn to God in that day, even as they are under siege by all the nations that surround them, and particularly those from the north.

We previously mentioned, both in this book and the previous one, that events in history often foreshadow the end. Many times since Israel was formed in 1948 we have seen this kind of end-time situation develop, and there have always been some saying this is the end that was prophesied. However, those times passed, and maybe they will pass again, but Jesus did tell us we should be able to discern the season of the end, even if not the exact day and hour of his coming.

As the spirit of the age advances in the end-times, promoting all forms of violence, immorality, and perversion, it will be recognised as preceding and preparing the way for the coming of the lawless one – the antichrist. In fact the spirit of the age is the spirit of antichrist that is already at work opposing Christ, his people, and all that God is for.

As was discussed in the 1st book, when that end does come the people of God will be taken up and out of the world, while the evil principalities and powers are cast down (Zech 5, Rev 12). Then the time of God's wrath, vengeance, and judgement will come upon the Earth in full force, and the Spirit of the Age will be judged with them.

Let me share an image with you:

This is a recovery of the image of the rainbow that has been abused and misused by the world and the spirit of the age, that is used in both the Old and New Testaments of the Bible. In Revelation chapter 4 it appears before the throne of God, where the seven-fold spirit of God is represented by seven lamps, and where Christ is speaking to the seven churches.

The rainbow has seven colours that also represent God, with each colour aligned to one of the seven Spirits of God (Is 11:2).

The Spirit of the Lord – Violet/Purple

The Spirit of Wisdom – Indigo

The Spirit of Understanding – Blue

The Spirit of Counsel – Green

The Spirit of Power – Yellow

The Spirit of Knowledge – Orange

The Spirit of The Fear of the Lord – Red

As the movement to promote sexual perversion has progressed, it has adopted the image of the rainbow as a 'PRIDE' flag and symbol for the LGBTQ community, and they even perverted that by reducing it to 6 colours, rather than 7 – i.e. the number of Man rather than God, expressing their godlessness. As we said earlier, the agenda of the spirit of the age with all of this is to promote all forms of perversion, and their campaign to capture and corrupt symbols is part of it.

The truth about this image, that appears in Rev 4, is it is a symbol of pending wrath and judgment, showing the slain Lamb of God on the throne, with thunder and lightning beneath the rainbow speaking of the coming 'Wrath of the Lamb' that heralds terrible times for those on Earth when it comes.

Before that there will be rapture where Christ and all his people will be withdrawn so evil can rampage unchecked for a short while as all goodness, and all the forces that now restrain evil are taken out. This is a time that must come so the full testimony of what evil is and does can be seen in its fullness as an eternal testimony of our age.

As this end of the age approaches we can expect things to get chronically worse, while at the same time the church will be reaping a huge harvest that rescues souls from it.

Let me give you a new hybrid word to describe what will happen, and is already happening in these times. The new word is – 'Synchronyization'. People will find themselves drawn into sin and captivated by the spirit of the age so they become synchronized with it, and are made cronies of its cause.

All of this is preparation for the coming of the antichrist who will be hugely and irresistibly charismatic, and become the champion of their cause.

I will include a chapter on the antichrist later in the book, as I did with the 1st book of the series. But before I leave this section on the spirit of the age, I need to mention something else that is a part of it, and from which the antichrist may arise.

I often wondered – if Christ is the light of the world, as he said, and so aligned in creation with the sun (John 8:12, Mal 2:4, Ps 19:2). And if we, the Church, are also the light of the world (Matt 5:14), then what exactly is the moon? What does it symbolise?

I decided in the end the moon is a depiction of the organised church. So please understand, when I speak of the ‘Church’, I am speaking throughout the book of the whole body of born again believers, and not of the organised church.

The new creature of all believers is collectively the bride of Christ, which is the Church. However, the organised church is something else. Sometimes people seem to confuse the two, but they are two different things, even if the organised church have many members that are part of the Church – the body and bride of Christ.

Why do I mention that when speaking of the spirit of the age? Because the organised church is, at least in part, also embroiled in the spirit of the age. This is what the world takes great delight in pointing out. That the church is often as worldly as they are, and sometimes worse.

The roots of this are deep and it is often rooted in legalism or law, which is the principle of this world. For the world this is the normal way, but for the church it is corruption as it is supposed to run on a different principle.

This is a little off topic, though an important one, so I have left that subject to another book of mine – titled GRACE WORKS.

Let's come back to what I said about the moon as a symbol of the organised church.

It has no light of its own but only reflects the light of the sun. At any time only half of the moon is light, and the other half is dark, with a different face constantly presented to the Earth.

In dark times it can provide necessary light, as with a full moon; at times it can be half-light and half-dark; and at other times it can be completely dark and disappear.

All of this seems to parallel the same kind of story for each individual believer – that there are two natures. One of the flesh and the other of the Spirit, and only one can be prominent at any one time. Given that the organised church is comprised of such members, perhaps it should be no surprise that the organised church has a similar form – sometimes spiritual, and sometimes worldly.

What this means is, the parts of the organised church that are worldly are dark, and they too are part of the spirit of the age. Those with any experience with so much of the organised church can often relate to this.

All of this can manifest in many different ways, but it is usually shown up by deviation from the scriptures in some way.

One major way is that the very form of church is usually quite different to the one the scriptures show us. We see worldly hierarchy, using a ‘King’ model of church, rather than the ‘Servant’ model Jesus told us we must have. This has become so endemic that many would not even know what I am talking about and just dismiss it as their ‘tradition’.

Over my life God has led me to many places to see a wide spectrum of religion and the church. At times that deviation from the scriptures becomes quite extreme, even though those in it seem to be blind to it.

Take for example where church leaders dress as a king with something like a crown and a royal gown. They live in something like a palace, with servants, and have an entourage wherever they go. In the more extreme cases they teach the people to bow to them and even call them Lord – something that early Christians refused to do for anyone but Jesus, even on pain of death or total exclusion from society. Then, in the even more extreme cases, they will sit before the people when they worship and receive the worship as if they are Christ. Clearly they feel their job is to represent Christ, but in fact this is really idolatry, and something for which the scriptures give them no precedent, but quite the opposite. Sometimes they come to be owned in some measure by the state, receiving gifts and favours. And they may also be put under some demand to serve the purposes of the state so they only serve their agenda.

Jesus spoke directly against those that sought the places of honour (Matt 23:6); who wanted to be honoured with titles; who loved to dress up to put on a show and be greeted like some dignitary (Luke 20:46). Jesus made it clear what he thinks of those things. And then where church leaders give in to temptation and push it further to where they accept, or even expect God's servants to bow down to them or worship them, they show their sheer contempt for God and the scriptures.

Peter, John, Paul, Barnabas and others refused to let people bow down to them, reminding them they are only mere men and servants (Act 10:25, Acts 14:11-15, Acts 3:12). Then, in Revelation when John twice sees an angel and falls down on his face before him, the angel immediately responds by telling him not to do it, and reminded him they are both servants of God, so he should only worship God. The same is also true in the Old Testament where angels are encountered, yet these Christian leaders continually flout these scriptures in what they accept, and sometimes even expect. There is no wonder that these ones come to promote the false principle of Law, and discard the true principles of Grace, where they come to believe themselves to be righteous by their own position and works, not acknowledging that only God should get the glory. All these ones should expect from God is judgement, because they had their reward and they may find that all that awaits them is humiliation, or even a position in hell.

For them their main excuse is ‘tradition’ while they flagrantly disregard the scriptures that warn them against the path they have chosen (Mark 7:6-8). Tradition is both demonic in nature, and belonging to the spirit of the age – the antichrist spirit, when it sets aside and displaces God, and the word of God.

So much of the scriptures speak against this kind of thing that there is really no excuse for it. Such people who have put themselves at the head of the procession in this way have already had their reward where they made the corrupt Earth their domain of destiny, not Heaven (Matt 6:5). By it they have put themselves at risk of the same sin as the Devil and the judgement that goes with it.

For them they learn to present an image of light and honour, but in doing so they masquerade like Satan who appears as an angel of light, only to deceive. What lies beneath these displays is corruption, given that they know the scriptures and how this goes against it, yet they prefer the temporary rewards of this life.

All of this is worldliness, and darkness. And what is worse is it is a breeding ground for the antichrist who will demand exactly this kind of veneration. In some cases, the ‘bishops’ as some call them, who rule over a region, appoint their own successors, which reduces the whole thing to really be another form of tribalism, dressed up as Christianity, where once a regime becomes entrenched it becomes very difficult to alter or reform it.

This is another form of the spirit of the age at work in the organised church.

Of course, there are many churches and leaders that are not so extreme, but still fail to implement the kind of church that the scriptures clearly show them. Often, I find, it is money that is at the root of it. People make the organised church their career, and then do everything they can to make sure they have job security, so they come to control it to that end, which is a far cry from serving God and doing his will. For them, as teachers of the word, there is no excuse.

When I began writing this series of end-times books, it came just after I was led to write a book about how the original church functioned, and how the scriptures say it should be. I then asked God how he would authenticate that book, and that led to him giving me another book to write, which was the 1st book of this end-times series. That, of course, is a prophetic book, so its fulfilments are its authentication, but also the authentication of the book on original church – The Original Church to Come by Trevor Maddison.

Of course, this 2nd book follows on from the 1st so this book is also an authentication of the book on original church, which is how God demands it to be in these end-times.

As the end-times approach it will become extremely important that the Church begins to operate properly, as God intended, and as scripture shows us, to make sure it is powerful enough to meet the challenges of these end-times. If they decline to do that then I suggest their future is a dark one as they will be taken over by the spirit of the age that they have so far, by comparison, only flirted with.

I will say more on the church of the end-times later as this is an important topic. I will also come to show there is a recognisable repeating cycle of the horses of the apocalypse that can be seen in history, and again happening in this end-times birthing season. What that will show is the ideology that drives the end-times will in fact arise in this 2020's decade, as the decade of the black horse, so from that we can understand what we will be up against as we approach the end of the age.

6. The Last-Days Church

I already wrote about the degradation of the church into something profoundly worldly, and how there is a shameless disregard of scripture to implement it, often based on tradition rather than the leading of the Spirit of God.

All the elements are there of hierarchy, accompanied by false doctrines of legalism, and false worldly agendas of money, status, pride, competition, jealousy and so much else that reflects the religion of Jesus's day, that he showed so much disdain for.

One message I have heard from prophets, that I accept, is that the last-days organised church will become the church of Laodicea that had become – wretched, miserable, poor, blind, and naked – in real spiritual terms (Rev 3:17), which totally aligns with what legalism produces (Gal 4:9).

Of course the church tries not to present that condition; quite the opposite, or it would not survive, but that just results in hypocrisy, which in our day has led to the total demise of such church in the top ranks who have even come to lose their faith, whilst still seeking to maintain their jobs, positions, and incomes.

When I inquired of the Lord why the Laodicea church declined to such a state, the answer I received was shocking – They asked for it. Meaning, they became focused only on just their own prosperity and comfort, and that is all they came to pray for. Not the will and purpose of God, or anything that the Spirit would have led them to, but what they wanted that was so much based on the influence of the world around them. In the end God granted their request as that is often the only way to resolve such a problem, where his people lose the plot to that degree.

Of course the letter to that church in the book of Revelation was designed to open their eyes again so they could see their true condition, and that was the grace of God at work, disciplining them. In it we see a call from God to repent before he spewed them out in disgust, and that is and will be the position of the compromising church in our times where they are forced to make up their mind.

The extreme choices God is leading them to is on the one hand, to emerge as the pure and spotless bride of Christ, or on the other to become the great prostitute that committed adultery with the kings and powers of the nations (Rev 17). What we can expect for the church that continues to sit on the fence is that God will shake the fence until they fall on one side or the other in these last-days.

One thing we must thank God for is that there is always at least a remnant that are on fire for him, doing his will, and these are the ones that will lead the way for those that decide to find their way back. In these last-days we can expect the prayer to be answered – Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on Earth as it is in Heaven – so the true church will emerge in its full glory in these times, which will be a wonderful thing to see.

7. Prophecy NOT Analysis

Before I go any further, I want to again emphasise a key point so this whole book, and series of books, is not misunderstood. PROPHECY IS NOT ANALYSIS.

What I mean by that is – Analysis of events is not the same thing as prophecy. When we analyse we apply what knowledge, wisdom, and experience we have to make a judgement, often with predictions about what may happen next.

With prophecy that is not what is happening. Rather we are receiving information that is not based on anything other than our revelation and sense of affirmation from the Spirit of God that what we are hearing is accurate.

This is a sense we have to develop and it often bypasses the thoughts and ideas we would otherwise come up with by our own analysis.

Prophetic revelations therefore come directly from the Spirit of God. As such these revelations often go against our own wisdom and tell us something that can seem either unlikely, or at times downright impossible. For that reason, in 2019 when I spoke to some Christians about what was coming in 2020, they laughed. I don't think they were still laughing in 2020 when their churches were shut down, but that was their initial reaction. God gives these revelations precisely to mark them out as something from him so they make those who hear sit up and take notice when they happen. They are also given to inform us, rather than just to impress us, so they are helpful in preparing us for something that is coming.

20 Above all, you must understand that no prophecy of Scripture came about by the prophet's own interpretation of things. 21 For prophecy never had its origin in the human will, but prophets, though human, spoke from God as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit. (2 Peter 1:20-21)

This is about the prophecies of scripture, but it is also true for all true prophecy. At times such revelations can avert real disasters, or help us avoid costly mistakes. They can also provide us with knowledge that will give us peace, and give us assurance that God is in control and cares about us and our interests.

Where prophecy can be particularly useful is where we don't have the knowledge or understanding we feel we need to be at peace in the world. If we discover prophecy to be a reliable source of information, it can radically change our outlook and inform us on what is the best thing we can do in any circumstance.

The Bible puts it this way – My sheep hear my voice, I know them, and they follow me (John 10:27).

And – The children of God are led by the Spirit of God (Rom 8:14).

After all, who needs analysis when you have a reliable, omniscient, and omnipotent shepherd looking after your interests who shows you the way?

8. The Remainder of the 2020's

To know and understand what to expect for the remainder of the 2020's decade it is helpful to be aware of God's agenda.

The overarching concern of God in this end-times season is that all nations are opened up for the harvest of souls through the gospel in these days, so where people are limited in their freedom to hear and receive the gospel, we can expect God to challenge that dominance.

We have already seen exactly this happening in the nations of Iran and Russia in 2026. These revolutions, that are now ongoing, will continue until they are complete and in time will come to be seen collectively as a 'glorious revolution', as already prophesied.

I also have a prophetic conviction that Iran will be sending out many Christian evangelists across the world, not just to reach their own diaspora, but to reach other nations too. God has a way of overturning the works of the enemy completely and this is the kind of poetic justice we can expect after 47 years of demonic repression by the false religion of Islam.

In the end Islam in Iran will have served God's purpose by demonstrating to the world just how bad man-made false religion can be, and this in an age where social media and the internet is keeping everyone on Earth well informed.

What we have to realise is that now we are in the birthing season, the stakes have been raised massively.

One thing the pandemic lockdown did at the beginning of the decade was to accelerate the technology for web meetings and conferencing.

That in turn has brought a huge amount of corporate prayer into the world; more than the world has ever known before.

I meet and pray with fellow believers almost daily now; sometimes multiple times per day from my own home, and those I meet with are miraculously spread across the globe.

That level of prayer is appropriate to the times we are living in where everything is accelerated.

In terms of what to expect for Russia, once the purpose of the black horse is complete – of bringing scarcity to Russia, the war there can end, and that should be before the end of the decade ready for the ride of the next horse. In the 2030's another horse of the apocalypse becomes the prominent one, as we will discuss later, so the activity of the black horse will end or fade, though it will still feature in another way before the end, as will be covered later in this book.

Of course, that doesn't mean the present war is the last of wars in the world. Far from it. Jesus told us in no uncertain terms that wars and rumours of war will continue to the end (Matt 24:6). As always, what is to come will be scary, which it must be, but every promise of God through these seasons continues to stand true, which we will also discuss further later.

I already shared a prophetic insight that 2026 will in hindsight be seen as a year of 'glorious revolution'. As such we can expect the present Iran war to come to a good conclusion. That is simply the purpose of God in it, and as we said before, so that this nation is opened to the gospel after spending so long under an oppressive regime and their false religion.

As such, this and other wars are going to defy the predictions of many 'experts' and 'analysts' that think they can predict results by mere logic and experience. Many of these experts have an arrogance that God wants to humble, especially as for many of them their opinions are based on emotional bias or jealousy of those that have had some unexpected success that they did not predict. Or their bias stems from the fact it is their career and source of income. In the end, many of these experts will have to 'eat their words' when what they opposed comes to be regarded by history as 'glorious'.

One thing we should be aware of is that in these end-times everything is accelerated. What dictators have done in the past will not be allowed to continue in these times if they block the purposes of God. Soon, if they are smart, the dictators of the world will come to realise this.

That covers much of what to expect for the remainder of the 2020's decade, but there will be a fairly dramatic finale to the decade, which seems appropriate as that is how it began. This time it is not another pandemic, but an asteroid near miss for Earth that is already on its way. However, as it will be a significant event, I have devoted a later chapter to it.

9. Prayer & Intercession

One question that comes up when considering the end-times is – What effect can we expect our prayers to have? If God is relaxing the restraint on the evils that come through the horses of the apocalypse, does that mean we are praying against his purposes when we pray against it?

To answer this, take a look at what happened towards the Exodus of the Israelites from Egypt, because this event is a ‘type’ of what will happen in the end-times now the world population is more than 150 times what it was at that time, and applied to the whole world and not just one small nation or people of the world.

The land of Goshen where the Israelites were dwelling was protected from the plagues of Egypt. That was a key part of the message to Pharaoh and the Egyptians; that the Israelites had a God who is more powerful than whatever is happening in the world so they are protected by God through it, even though they were dwelling in close proximity in the same land.

This is how it was always intended to be in the end-times to demonstrate to the world the disparity between them and the people of God.

We are the restraining force on the evils of the world as long as we are here (2 Thes 2:7). However, that does not protect the whole world from the troubles that are arising. By seeing these troubles arise, and seeing how the people of God respond to it, and subdue it, it is intended for the people of the world to realise what we have is real, and so to come looking for the same help and salvation we have from him.

At the same time as presenting that message of salvation to the world, we are also presenting the message of impending judgement and wrath for all that refuse it. In that respect our message is unequivocal so all people are led to understand the truth of what is at stake for them in this world.

When we look at the scriptures, there are many ‘types’ that prophetically depict what is coming in its fullness on the world and the people of God at the end of the era. These include:

Noah and the Flood

The judgement of Sodom and Gomorrah.

The Exodus from Egypt

The judgement of Israel in 70 AD

All of this carries the same message, in different forms, of a rescue from the traumas of the world. Rapture is the word that has been given to the final event it all points to, where the people of God are finally taken out of the world so it can be judged in the coming day of wrath.

Until we are taken out of the world, our prayers, intercessions, and deliverance ministry will be the restraining force on the evils of the world.

For now evil is trapped in the heavenly realms, as described in Zechariah 5, but once we, the Church, are taken out, they will be cast down and there will be an exchange of places so they can then be judged on Earth (see also Rev 12).

10. Weapons Of Warfare

The scriptures tell us, the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but are mighty through God for the pulling down of strongholds (Cor 10:4).

We are also told we have defensive armour, with weapons. The sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God is one. All prayer is mentioned as another weapon that has many forms, in the same passage of Eph 6, which is the last of the seven war equipment listed. But there is more.

We are told in the Old Testament the word of God can be both a hammer, and a fire (Jer 23:29). In fact angels are said to be a flame (Heb 1:7), and God a consuming fire (Heb 12:29), so they are both weapons against the enemy.

In Revelation Jesus is seen with eyes of fire and a sword coming from his mouth.

With the hammer we are equipped for demolition. With the fire we can burn and consume all that is evil.

The scriptures also speak of us wrestling with the enemy, which unequivocally means hand to hand close combat fighting, not with flesh and blood, but with spiritual powers.

One thing we know of with war is it brings forth great innovation. Our enemy is certainly cunning because all he does is based on deception and fear, so he innovates.

Through deception he seeks to inject fear, which can then open us up for him to establish a foothold, or even a stronghold. Many African tribes become masters of the art of holding people in a place of fear so the people will serve them, often so they can exploit them.

Every time new technology arrives it is utilised for both good and evil, so there is always a huge amount of innovation on how to use it to the maximum to capture people.

One thing we should be ready for and expect is for the enemy we face to innovate new weapons. But we should at the same time realise that God also has some surprises ready for these end-times, and this is something the enemy knows and is very wary of, and worried by.

On 8 May 2026, I was given prophetic information about a new weapon that is coming to us, and is in fact already in use.

This weapon, through prophecy, was referred to as the STRIMMER. In the UK a ‘strimmer’ is a gardening tool used for whipping down long grass using a rapidly rotating string or line. In other countries it has been given various names, including – a weed whacker, a weed eater, and a whipper snipper.

What I was shown was an angel with a whip of fire. With it he can strike violently, with thunder, lightning, and burning, terrifying those spiritual beings that come under it. This is a weapon for both punishing and driving the demons until they flee in terror. Anyone delivered by this weapon is then also protected by it so if any attacking entity comes back, it is again lashed. For demons this is not the vengeance of God that is reserved for them later in the lake of fire, but it is a taste of it, and designed to be a deterrent that will make them think again before trying to occupy any vessel of God and his Spirit in these times.

As I announced this prophetic revelation I was instantly aware that this was the first the demonic realm had heard of it as I sensed their alarm. And I also knew this was a new thing for angels too.

Although God normally announces anything he is going to do using the prophetic ministry, he still is able to conceal new weapons and strategies so they are only unveiled in their right time.

In the 1st book of the series, when I announced the birthing season, I referred to the 10×7^3 population number, which was a completely new piece of knowledge, only for our time.

When I was led to announce the STRIMMER weapon for the first time I was aware that this was information that suddenly went viral in the heavenly realms, and through the ranks of the demons. And I was immediately aware of both the angels rejoicing, and the demons trembling, wondering what this new weapon means for them.

My mind was then cast back to a deliverance session I had done just two days earlier, where I began calling fire down on a demon, and it began shrieking, and I was aware this was something new. Then when I learned about this weapon my next question was – How can this be a new weapon if I just used it two days before? The answer that came back was – sometimes God conceals things from the enemy in this way. Usually the prophetic announcement would come before the event in our time, but sometimes it simply comes somewhere in eternal time, which is used to keep the knowledge of it from the enemy until the time is right.

I sort of felt I understood this, but really I only need to accept it. The truth is, sometimes we announce new things directly from God rather than it being given through angels, and they then get to hear it through us. It is a kind of occasional reversal of the normal order, but done for a purpose, and angels are quite intrigued by it because they know they may at any time learn something of significance like this from us, rather than the other way around. I now call this being – supernaturally supernatural, which is a human doing something like the job of an angel.

Coming back to this weapon, it has been available from before 8 May 2026, but its official announcement was on 1st June 2026, when this 2nd book of the series was released. Its purpose is to bring deliverance, or for those that don't want that, to drive them and the people they possess out of our lands as it is a weapon that terrifies them and they will want to avoid it at all costs.

The long term effect of this will be to force everyone into one of two camps. Those that turn to God, and those that refuse. These camps of the enemy will then become very dark places, while those of God will be full of light. It is God's purpose to force this kind of separation in these end-times before the rapture, after which the Earth then moves into the time of wrath.

In terms of who can wield this new weapon, there are some very strict requirements. This is only for those that are wholly devoted to God and his purpose, so they don't have their own agendas. This is for their own protection. Those that harbour agendas of self-promotion, or financial gain, or anything other than solely God's purpose and obedience to him, will not be able to wield it. God therefore requires a complete consecration to him for those who are allowed to use it. They also need to know how to keep their armour in place as they will be prime targets for counterattack.

One thing we need to realise is that this is not the last new weapon to be unveiled in the end-times – far from it. There is more and greater to come, each in its time, but all of this will require us to be wholly consecrated to God and his purpose only, not having agendas of our own. Without that we will be no use in the master's hand for this work so he will then detail us to other work, as that is the only safe place for us. But when it comes to these weapons he will find or train those he needs to wield it as it is an essential thing in these last-days in the war against Satan and all that is evil.

Remember what Jesus said to the disciples he sent out on mission where they came back saying – Even the demons submit to us. Jesus told them not to rejoice that the demons submit to them, but to rejoice that their names are written in heaven (Luke 10:20).

We are warned there will be some when they come to the judgement that Jesus will say to them – depart from me, I never knew you. And they will reply – but we prophesied in your name; cast out demons; and did many wonders in your name. But he will say to them depart (Matt 17:21-23).

This is a shocking scripture, designed to make us lay down our own agendas and serve God only. But I want to add to this a further warning that I hear prophetically, that is also clear in the scriptures.

When it comes to judgement, there will be many who DID know him, but they mixed their life with their own agendas. For them, for each act they did for God, which may be many, they have already had their reward. It is the same for those that took the route of the Pharisee, who sought their own honour. They will come expecting rewards only to realise they already had it because they did it for their own agenda and purpose (Matt 6:2).

When it comes to these last-days weapons I am talking about, it is even more important that people don't have their own agendas and are wholly consecrated to God, or there will not just be a loss of reward, but a 'backlash' for them, which Jesus wants them to avoid.

I remember once seeing some huge fish spawning quite near the bank of a river, so I told my friend about it who was keeping a government run fish farm for the purpose of keeping the rivers stocked with fish, thinking he would be pleased. I told him the good news as it seemed to be evidence the river was healthy, but he was not pleased at all because it inadvertently suggested his fish farm was no longer required.

A similar thing happens with the demon peddling industry that wants to keep the fear levels up so they are always kept in business. That kind of thing is a false agenda, and from the point of view of the enemy, it is a useful distraction from God, even though genuine deliverance is a much needed ministry. The key to avoiding such traps is to be make sure we are always walking in obedience to the leading of the Spirit, and we are not off doing our own thing.

One thing we need to realise is that demons have a strategy to distract us from God, so they make themselves a decoy. Where they become our main emphasis, we can be sure we are being led in wrong paths. We must always be led by the Spirit of God in this ministry, and always for the purpose of clearing the path so we can live more completely for God. We therefore must never let our dealings with demons turn into the worship of demons, which it will if we get too distracted by them rather than listening to the Spirit.

When I am writing like I am now with this book, I find God leads me prophetically, often waking me in the early hours to get my instructions for the day. That keeps things fresh for sure. As such this very sentence is coming towards the completion of the book as I take a final pass over it, asking God what he wants me to add or change today.

As I am considering that, the Spirit is casting my mind back to just before I wrote this book and the two previous ones, all in 2026, and reminding me how this whole thing of writing seemed to be ending as my finances became so tight, it looked like I couldn't even maintain the website. Then, when time finally ran out, for a few days it went dark, and I simply surrendered it to God, believing when one door closes, God will open another, and maybe God was doing this to lead me on.

At that point I remember saying to the Lord, this is yours to do with what you want, and I know if you want it, you will resource it. I was ready to work in whatever way was right, so I looked for jobs. But just as it looked like I landed a job, suddenly money came through that had seemed interminably blocked, and at the same time I was given significant increase on the sources of income on which I was surviving that were just too tight to function.

That allowed me to pay to maintain the website; keep the domain names I need after 3 days where it seemed lost; and work on books and in evangelism as God directed. And now, just this morning, as I awoke to finish this book, the Spirit prophetically spoke to me and said – That was its resurrection.

You see, when it comes to ministry, there is always a test that asks the question – Who does this work belong to? Our response to losing it tells us the truth as God draws it out into the open. Of course, he doesn't force us to lay down what we have run away with that really belongs to him, but he does expose the truth of it so we can't easily hide the facts. So just as it is with the grain of wheat, all that we have must first die to be fruitful. Then whatever has become OUR ministry, goes back to the one who should really own it and he is then able to make it bear fruit for his kingdom.

This is the kind of surrender God needs from those he will use for the greater things in these end-times. That and the kind of daily consecration I find God is calling for now which is able to say – ‘Whatever the cost’.

One word of warning I must add on this is, don't presume when God calls you to lay down what you have that he will then resurrect it, because on that you may be disappointed. The truth is, you may find he has a different path for you and then you need to be ready to leave what you are clinging to. But in the end, whether you choose the hard or easy path, God will lead you to where he wants you to be. Then the sacrifice he calls for, if you make it, will be worth it.

When I look around at some of the ministries in the world, I thank God for the power and gifts he is releasing. Though one thing I prophetically hear from God when I see these ministries, is that God is equipping the Church for the end-times, and the things these ministries are doing now will soon become the norm. That makes what they have an exciting foretaste of what is to come that we can only thank God for.

To God be the glory. Great things HE has done.

11. Granite Skies

Before I go further I need to issue a stern warning to the prophetic community.

In our day many have succumbed to the temptation of acquiring wealth through the monetarization of their online prophetic content. God is not so concerned about the money than he is about the motive, and the fact that it has led many to speak things they have not heard from him under the pressure to keep their content flowing.

My warning to all that are guilty of this is – they can expect 'Granite Skies'.

No prophetic person should need an explanation of this, but I will spell it out clearly regardless so you can't miss it. If you speak for God when he has not spoken to you, expect to become dull of hearing to what God is actually saying.

If you continue to release content without making sure you heard God correctly, and are given direction by him to release it, then your words will come to be used by the enemy, and you risk disillusionment and depression.

Even the earnings that come to you from such a practise will be a curse and not a blessing.

Please don't misunderstand me. In these times God needs prophetic ministries so if you use your gift well heaven will be thankful. However, what God does not need is the kind of prophet that works to his own agenda. No financial rewards are worth it, especially as God has already promised to take care of you, so don't be foolish. You can see enough of this abuse in scripture to be warned about it, as most of you are aware, so be careful and check yourself while you still can.

One thing I must add to this is that for those that make a genuine mistake, this does not apply. Our God is a forgiving God. Mistakes will always happen. But if it does happen and you have prophesied error in public, it is essential you also acknowledge it in public and do what you can to correct it.

Sometimes, as we know, God gives conditional prophecies of things that can be averted by repentance or prayer, as with the prophet Jonah. But if you prophesied without these conditions, as with most prophecies God gives, and then use these unstated conditions as a scapegoat for your error rather than owning your mistake, your words are equivalent to the man who was dishonest, so the same judgement of granite skies will apply to you unless you repent and humble yourself. Though you protected your reputation in this way, your step into dishonesty will corrupt you without repentance, so you need to be wise and own your mistakes quickly with humility.

I say this to you as one who has made mistakes, as most true prophets have, so if you have done it too then you are in good company. But my warning is, just to be sure you are serving the Lord, not yourself, with the excellence he demands in your God-given work and purpose because, as you know, judgement begins with the house of God (1 Peter 4:17).

12. China

At this time there are still suppressing nations that must be opened up for the gospel. Of these, after Russia and Iran, China will be the key nation to get God's focus, purely because of the population numbers.

What I believe about this is the path that China takes very much depends on the decisions of President Xi and the dictators of that nation as they watch other nations forced open. Will they be wise and learn the lessons they are seeing in the rest of the world, or not? Will they recognise the hand of God in these events? Let's pray they do because they can either do this the easy way, or the hard way.

The future on this is therefore not yet determined, so good choices can still be made. What we can expect is for God to force them into a corner where they have to make a choice, one way or another, whether for good or ill. Either way, God will get what he wants.

The atheistic views of this regime are a real problem, which has led them to repress all religions, despite their state controlled pretences.

The problems they are facing are considerable. There is economic pressure from the typical mistakes of dictators and nationally controlled enterprise – despite their managed appearance. There is also a generation of rebellious youth arising, largely as a result of the former single child policy that has now been dropped, who are refusing such a dictatorial rule. For example, there is a saying among this young generation that shows their contempt for the government, their rule, and the slave-like work ethic their government wants them to adopt, especially after some horrific governmental abuses during the earlier pandemic. That saying translates to 'let it rot', and another translates to 'lie flat' as an act of rebellion against a government they feel oppresses them. This translates to many of these young people choosing not to work, but instead to continue to live on the resources of their parents.

Over the centuries the main incentive for people to work hard has been to get married and raise a family. The single child policy in China has had the effect of making this seem an unreachable goal for many in China, which is an evil of our time, and a cause of great trouble. The same is true of the price of buying a family home in other nations, where it has been put way out of scope of many young people. Again this is an evil thing, rooted in the selfishness of the older generations, but a mistake that has a high price for a nation as the youth are not incentivised to work.

If China opts for repression this time I believe it will go badly wrong for this government. It is in the hands of the Church to pray for good decisions to be made to avoid another bloodbath, but you can be sure that this is the desire of Satan and his horde – that they once again get to satiate their bloodlust.

At this point in time I believe it is crucial that we pray China will be opened up, and I believe it is still possible without Satan getting his way.

This may be the issue where the Church really proves the true power of prayer and intercession, but I believe at this time, in 2026, the way this will go for China is so far undecided.

13. The Satanic Agenda

Many don't realise that Satan has an ongoing agenda to precipitate the end-times without fulfilment of the things that have been prophesied.

There is a well-known man from the last century named Rees Howells, who was known as the 'Great Intercessor'. God called him to pray and intercede through both WW1 and WW2.

In the books about him the biographer shares some of his prophetic insights he received during his time. For example during WW2 he said God showed him that 'Stalin is his own man, but Hitler could tell you the very day the spirit entered him'. Another revelation he had about WW2 was that Satan was again trying to precipitate the end-times, and he was led to pray against it.

Why would Satan want that?

Part of the answer is the bloodlust of his hordes that I mentioned before, that will to some degree be satiated for a while in the end-times.

Another answer is they are impatient and want the battle to commence, in their arrogance believing they can actually win.

Another is that they see time working against them and so want the battle to commence. I believe as they are finite in energy and resources, the huge expansion of world population in our day has made it a real challenge for them to manage. For God, who is omnipotent, it serves his purpose of showing forth his power, so it is good for the Kingdom of God. But for Satan it reveals his limitations as his resources become overstretched.

We can also think of this like a gambler wanting to cash in his chips while he feels he is ahead. The evil forces know there is to be a last-days harvest, but each one lost from the grip of Satan is a cause of grief to them because of that malicious lust for causing suffering, even by dragging people to hell with them if they can.

One thing to understand about demons and satanic entities is that they are never at rest. They know the lake of fire is pending for them and living with that truth means they are tormented and never rest. It seems they find some measure of rest by occupying and possessing a human being, if they can, probably more as a distraction from the truth of their predicament, as it gives them some satisfaction to destroy them, so they are always seeking to find rest somehow, which even compels them to want the end-times over and done with where they are hoping for the best.

I believe the background truth about Iran is that God has once again foiled the agenda of the enemy to precipitate the end-times so it has once again been pushed back to come in God's time, not Satan's, to make way for the last-days harvest.

Do I have any prophetic knowledge to say when the end will come?

Not long ago I visited the monument to William Tyndale in Gloucestershire, England, who was a martyr for the faith.

The tower has a viewing platform at the top. I went there by a leading of the Spirit and felt the presence of God throughout the visit. Then after I climbed the tower and came back down, as I stood back and looked at the tower, I asked the Holy Spirit what stage the world was now at, using this tower as a symbol of the history of the age.

I was shown the viewing platform at the top was almost completely in place, and there was only some minimal work to still come on the roof, so the tower was almost finished.

I was shown that the viewing platform at the top was a symbol of the technology of the internet, as the way the whole world would see and hear news and view the events of the end of the age. All this is now in place and ready for the final events, which is clearly a sign that the end is now getting very near.

Interestingly, it was the lockdowns during the pandemic right at the beginning of the birthing season that brought some of this technology to where it is now.

14. The Rising Ideology

One thing I will come to discuss later is that whenever the black horse is riding, which is always the first of a new lap of the horses of the apocalypse, as it has ridden many times through the centuries, there is always some ideology on the rise in the world. That ideology then sets the basis of the other horses that follow that can be seen to be in a repeating cycle in history.

Later I will come to discuss that repeating cycle and show how history bears that out. But right now I want to focus on this last-days lap of the horses that is following that same cycle in what is now the final birthing season.

As this is the end-times decade of the black horse, where that horse finally comes to rest in the north, in Russia, there is an accompanying ideology which we can identify.

That ideology should not surprise us if we are informed in any measure of the end-times scriptures and know what to expect. It is the ideology of antisemitism.

Of course, this ideology has arisen many times before over the centuries, and caused real persecution and devastation. We already discussed how that has fitted into the satanic agenda in the world.

What I now want to outline is how that is playing out in these last-days, and how it has been attacking the western nations that have a Judeo-Christian heritage.

Of course Islam is the primary source of antisemitism in the world. As a religion it was formed as the satanic answer and strategy to both the Jews and the Christians. Though Islam believes itself to be the final message of God to the world, it is in fact the satanic strategy to counter that true message which was given in Christ.

The Quran is loaded with elitism towards everything else, and anger, with many element that incite violence and persecution towards those that don't conform. This is most true of radical Islam, which comes to rule the rest who generally become passive under its tyranny.

When we look back over the centuries, to those that know their history, it is shocking that we can see the very same thing has arisen over the centuries, but in a Christian form. Generally with corrupt Christianity it is accompanied with the false gospel of legalism, which in principle has made it equivalent to Islam, which is a religion of LAW.

The true Christian message, however, is based on the principle of GRACE, which is wholly misunderstood and maligned by the legalistic church, even today.

Before writing this book I was led to write another called GRACE WORKS to explain what that true gospel really is and how it differs from legalistic Christianity, which is a corruption.

One key effect of grace, that marks it out as the true gospel, is that it fosters humility rather than elitism. One key objective of Jesus was to set himself against all legalism and expose it for what it is, and what it does. He ripped the religious veneer off the hypocrites of his day who had made themselves the murderous religious police force, believing in their own righteousness, as Islam does today.

Make no mistake, this is exactly how Jesus feels about Islam today, despite still loving the people and planning to rescue and save them.

For Islam, under the threat of hell, or the false promise of reward, it has been compelled to go on mission to conquer the world. As such, they have taken the opportunity of the open borders of naive western nations in our day, to invade them and work to take over. However, very recently much of the west has awakened to the truth of that satanic agenda and finally seen the writing on the wall, so it has provoked a huge reaction.

The scriptures tell us – When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him. (Isaiah 59:19b)

Christianity is seen as the arch enemy of Islam. Not just because it is the biggest world religion, but also because it is the truth that exposes their lie.

But western nations have a past and foundation on genuine moves of God in the world, where there have been many sacrifices; many prayers for those nations; and many genuine revivals or moves of God that have brought many people into the kingdom of God.

What we can be sure of is that God has not forgotten any of this. And at the same time the prayers and intercessions of the present day saints are continually rising before him as they appeal for him to act and reverse all that the enemy is doing.

The UK is currently at the forefront of this kind of invasion. I recently attended a march in London on 16 May 2026 where more than a million people gathered to protest against the policies of the present government that are trying to change Britain in the name of diversity, but are largely coming from a godless position where they have been duped by the spiritual forces behind what they are doing, and made puppets of the satanic agenda.

It is based on naive ideology that is in fact a huge experiment, sourced to a large degree on the same source as communism, that has already been seen to have failed. However, the politicians behind it are so sold on their new but godless morality, they are currently pressing ahead with their agenda regardless of the views of the people.

When these politicians in the UK came to power it was on the back of a protest vote against all political parties where people declined to go to the polls, so 20 million of 48 million eligible voters didn't vote. That meant the government was elected on a minority of votes, which of course was a huge mistake for the people, and again part of the satanic strategy, leading to an existential threat to the country and the culture.

However, what matters is not the satanic agenda, but the will and purpose of God. In the end Satan is always no more than a puppet of God who is made to serve his purpose. What is set to happen in Britain is one of the greatest revivals the world has ever seen. The massive influx of hostile Islamic people is going to be turned on its head as God moves once again in this nation, as he has so many times before. God has forgotten none of that heritage, or the prayers of the saints, both past and present, that have spoken blessing and the kingdom of God in the land.

But this is not just about Muslims in Britain. Over many decades now, many people in Britain have lost their Christian heritage, but are now wishing they had it back as they observe the impending threat of Islam. For many of them this is not a genuine desire for Christ, but seen as a better alternative to Islam that they now see will make them second class citizens in their own land, or worse if they don't conform.

Yet, God's purpose is now to even redeem these people and bring them back to himself, as they are the descendants of many that are his from the past. Many prayers and intercessions have been going up to God in alarm over the spiritual condition of this nation and the decline of the condition of the state church and monarchy. Such prayers have always preceded revival in this land. Modern technology has facilitated those prayers as never before, and God has heard those cries.

One way this can already be seen to be answered is by God raising up some brave and raw individuals that have a passion and unstoppable boldness for this nation that only

God could give.

Some of them have genuinely come to Christ and are now boldly expressing their faith in ways that are making the people take notice. As a result, God sent me to witness over a million people in London participating in praying the Lord's prayer together, asking for his kingdom to come and his will to be done on Earth as it is in Heaven. And even though many of them are not currently believers in Christ, believe me I can prophetically witness that God has heard that prayer AND HE WILL ANSWER IT.

Revival is about to break out in Britain and people of all nations will be swept into the kingdom of God by it. What the enemy meant for evil, God is about to turn for good.

If you are reading this and saying to yourself – but I am not religious, my message to you is – nor was Jesus. Jesus came and chose fishermen and outcasts, and he said a whole lot against the religious establishment. If you don't relate to religion then let me say to you – what you heard of as prayer is just hanging out with God and talking to him. And what you have been told is church is really just hanging out with God together and talking to him and each other, so it is family. If you do that Jesus promises to be there with you by his Spirit, and he always is. In the UK we lost our Christian heritage, mainly because it was turned into religion by some that had an interest in doing that, but God just wants us to come back to him and to the basics of letting him in on our lives. There is an Appendix at the end with a prayer that can get you started.

Coming back to the subject, once again we will see how the enemy has overplayed his hand and has actually set himself up for a massive defeat. In recent days other Christian nations have looked on the spiritual demise of Britain with dismay, and many true believers around the world have prayed earnestly for this nation. What they are about to see is their prayers miraculously answered as God moves in a way he never has before.

That will spread, as it has before from Britain, and bring blessing to the world where those same threats have been rising. Many that came here to promote Islam, will be sent back to their homeland with the message of Christ in their hearts. God is now equipping his church with the weapons they need to get this job done, so he is about to step us all up in a move of his power so the last-days harvest of the world can be brought in.

If you are interested in the timeline for that revival, go back to the chapter on –The Kairoi Year, which is part of the prophetic download I received for this year, to be included in this book.

15. The Asteroid Threat

Once again we need to remind ourselves that the traumas of the last-days are not simply to scare people for the sake of it. They are designed to make people ask serious questions about the purpose of their life and destiny as they see their lives potentially threatened, causing them to turn to Christ.

Without this they will be completely distracted, making a comfortable life and home for themselves in this world. But the world is condemned, and they will be too if such a view is never challenged.

This is designed, or allowed, by a loving God who is determined to reach and save as many as possible, so as difficult as it may be, it is a loving act of God to allow this.

Early in this decade of the 2020's I developed a prophetic awareness of a coming asteroid threat to this planet. I understood prophetically this threat was scheduled towards the end of this decade – the 2020's, and that it would be a significant enough event to 'discernibly alter our clocks'. This is how I heard it.

These days, with our modern technology, we are often able to anticipate such threats long before they arrive as many of these asteroids are orbiting the sun and have been seen before, with their future trajectory plotted.

At the time I received this prophetic knowledge I was unaware of an actual threat that has already been spotted by astronomers that is scheduled for that very time. The asteroid is known as Apophis, after the ancient Egyptian deity of chaos, darkness, and destruction. It is scheduled to pass the Earth on Friday, 13 April 2029, at a miniscule distance from the Earth's surface of 19,600 miles (31,600 km), arriving at a relative speed to Earth of 16,600 mph.

Before we look at that, let me say this should not be unexpected for anyone that is aware of the times we live in and the scriptures. God is shaking the Earth to make all people question their existence. We could have expected this decade of rest in the Church and unrest in the world to both begin and end with some kind of existential threat. As things have turned out, we began with a global pandemic scare in 2020, and we are ending with another threat in 2029 of a potential asteroid strike. And all this with a constant threat throughout the decade of nuclear war.

To put the asteroid Apophis into perspective, science projects it will pass the Earth a mere 2½ times the diameter of the Earth away from the Earth, and so near it is within the orbit of Earth's satellites; just one tenth of the distance from the Earth to the Moon.

In terms of size, this asteroid is 370m wide, weighing 61 million tonnes, and will be travelling at a relative speed of 16,600 mph.

Again to put that into perspective, an impact from such a size of asteroid would NOT be an extinction event, but it does threaten significant damage and loss of life to a globally populated Earth.

The amount of energy this asteroid will release if it hits the Earth is approximately equivalent to the whole global nuclear arsenal of the world going up at once. That's 1.2 billion tons of TNT, or 80,000 (eighty thousand) Hiroshima bombs in one blast. Of course there would not be nuclear radiation, as with a fission bomb, but this blast strength is huge and unprecedented.

Then consider what would happen if this asteroid splashes into the ocean, which is highly possible given that 71% of the Earth is covered by ocean. Most of us have seen the devastation that can come from an earthquake causing a tsunami, but this threat is far greater.

Science has researched evidence of mega-tsunamis in the past which are believed to have come from landslides where a massive amount of rock plunges into the ocean. This can be from volcanic islands splitting and plunging into the sea, or from undersea landslides. Some theories suggest the effects of these are reckoned to be capable of wiping out the complete seaboard of nations, so the authorities are therefore monitoring some pending potential landslides very closely.

Even the collapsing of ice walls in the arctic regions during the summer melt are believed to have caused rogue waves that have sunk ships many miles away.

Considering all this, when we come to an asteroid splashdown, the effect would be many times greater because though a volcanic landslide may be many times more material than this asteroid, the kinetic energy it carries depends also on speed, and while mass has a proportional effect, speed has an exponential effect making it many times more devastating.

Imagine filling a bathtub and then bashing the side of the bathtub with a fairly heavy blow. We would see a ripple effect over the bath surface, and some splashing at the edges, but little more.

This is the simulated equivalent of an earthquake. However, now imagine throwing a stone into the bathtub. How much greater would the water disturbance be? That is a good analogy of the difference an asteroid would make compared to an earthquake.

In the case of Apophis, at its size and speed, it would plunge 3 miles down into the ocean, creating a tsunami that would wipe out many seaboard cities and towns, or more.

The date for the asteroid passing the earth is more than a little ominous as Friday 13th, given that is a superstitious date for many. And this is not fiction! But as believers we should treat that as one of those facts that is designed to test and rattle those who have some insecurity about their life and destiny.

Apophis is approaching the Sun at a speed of 68,700 mph, and during its close approach to Earth in 2029, its speed relative to Earth is estimated to be around 16,600 mph.

The closeness of this asteroid to Earth can't be overstated at just $2\frac{1}{2}$ times the diameter of the earth. We first spotted it in 2004 as it orbits the sun, and observed it in detail in 2021, so we know the details of its trajectory. In this last pass its distance from Earth was some 40 times the distance from the Earth to the Moon. Even a few lunar distances for an asteroid are regarded as a near miss, but this one that is coming in 2029 is estimated to be just one-tenth of a lunar distance from Earth.

Science is generally quite accurate on its measurements of these celestial bodies, but not perfect. There is always the possibility they will be affected by another gravitational body, or that there are slight inaccuracies that can cause a small error, enough to put it on a strike path with Earth.

As with all engineering, there is always a tolerance error on all calculations. I am a qualified and experienced mechanical engineer, which in effect is an applied mathematician, so I know this from experience.

In the case of this asteroid, there is also another effect known to science that makes this asteroid alarming. It is called the Yarkovsky effect, caused by the fact the asteroid is also rotating, or tumbling in space, and different sides of it are bombarded by photons from the sun. That effect can make the asteroid veer towards a collision path with Earth, but it cannot be accurately predicted by science, so there is no certainty about it.

For the world, all of this is of deep concern, but that brings me back to the other part of the prophetic word I had on this even before I heard of Apophis. That the asteroid would pass so close to Earth it would make a discernible difference to our clocks. That means it will be close, but it will miss the Earth. Though of course, only those who believe in prophecy and know the source of it can find some assurance on that for themselves, and can benefit from such a word.

Most of us are aware that a mass with high velocity can slingshot around a planet or other larger body, radially altering the trajectory of the mass. The maximum angle possible of any such slingshot is 180 degrees, but for this asteroid with Earth, that would require a relative speed of 25,000 mph. At the actual relative speed of 16,600 mph, if the pass is close enough to Earth, the maximum slingshot angle possible around the Earth would be around 64 degrees without falling to Earth.

The fact that the speed of the asteroid is slower than the max slingshot speed also has the added concern that the gravity of Earth is more able to pull it in for a collision, thereby making the size of the target window for collision bigger than just the Earth's diameter. Also, if it gets nearer than 6,000 miles from Earth's surface it will hit atmosphere that will also drag it in.

In terms of the travel of the asteroid over Earth's surface, it will be travelling mainly against the spin of the Earth so that may add up to another estimated 25 degrees or so of travel over Earth's surface as it passes, giving as much as 90 degrees of total surface traversal. That is approximately enough to go from Bangladesh to London at its closest passing distance, which is in fact the approximate estimated path it will take over the Earth's surface.

For the asteroid to make this slingshot manoeuvre, its proximity to Earth has to be considerably closer than science is projecting, and likely to be within the edge of the upper atmosphere of the planet which would potentially cause some atmospheric drag and put on a real fireworks show.

Looking at this from the prophetic perspective, one thing I know is, given the relative mass of the Earth to the asteroid, it must be a very close pass to discernibly alter the clocks, if this prophetic word is true. At the same time our modern capacity for measuring time is incredibly accurate, so such a difference could be tiny.

The fact that the maximum slingshot distance above Earth calculates so closely to the thickness of Earth's atmosphere also indicates God is in control as this will cause maximum effect, so this is no simple coincidence. What he is doing is giving one of the signs in the heavens he spoke about in the scriptures, again to shake the world up and make people realise they need to seek salvation.

Imagine for a moment seeing the sky ripped open by a streak of fire across it, larger than anything known before, either in our times or in history. Such an event will be terrifying for those not prepared for it who have no assurance of safety.

Of course, everyone already knows of the meteor strike that is believed to have been the fate of the dinosaurs. It follows that if this is random, then what happened once to them can happen again, which will be a fearful thing for some who prefer to worship the God of science.

I believe the trajectory of this asteroid is designed to have the maximum effect so its path is optimised to be seen by as many people as possible. Over a matter of just 2 hours or so, it will pass from East to West over Asia, Africa, and Europe, covering the most populated areas of the planet, so many people will see it with the naked eye.

Of course, such an event will be covered by all forms of modern media, but this direct experience is necessary to have maximum effect because it is too easy to simulate video in our day, and we have already had jokers trying to con us to claim a comet was an alien spacecraft, so some will not believe it without actually seeing it. They have also already seen such a thing in the movies, so the live show is going to be important.

Though it appears science and the media are currently playing down this threat to some degree, there will come a time when they have to tell the truth about it. By then the level of threat may become more certain. From that point on there will be a time of real anxiety on the Earth as this is one of those signs in the heavens that both the Old and New Testament scriptures have foretold, causing people to fear and the hearts of men to even fail them:

And there will be great earthquakes in various places, and famines and pestilences; and there will be fearful sights and great signs from heaven. (Luke 21:11)

25 And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring; 26 Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken. (Luke 21:25-26).

Thus says the LORD: “ Do not learn the way of the Gentiles; Do not be dismayed at the signs of heaven, For the Gentiles are dismayed at them. (Jer 10:2)

This event will again serve to make many seek God. The purpose of this prophetic preparation is to be sure that through this time the Church remains restful; aware that God is in full control; and ready to receive the last-days harvest of souls that comes from it.

This will by no means be the last of these kind of signs that the Earth must face in the last-days as we can see the word ‘signs’ used there by Jesus in scripture is plural.

One further concern, for those that are so inclined, is astronomers have calculated this asteroid may be affected by the gravity of Earth in such a way that it will cause the asteroid to loop back on us in 2036 and even hit the Earth in that pass.

Given that I am prophesying the projected passing distance of the astronomers is inaccurate, this prediction will also be inaccurate so it is not something we should be concerned about until after it has passed in 2029 and we know its new trajectory, even though we know this is not the last of the heavenly signs that will be given.

So, setting aside my geekish reckoning, and the reckoning of astronomers, the prophetic message is that the asteroid will miss the Earth, so we believers should remain in that place of rest in God, understanding our times, and enjoy the fireworks show, as we should for the whole decade, no matter what the scientists or media say about it.

Remember, the rest we are given in this decade is the kind of rest Jesus had when he slept in the boat during a storm. Then when they awakened him in fear he asked – Where is your faith?

The final point to make about this is to remind us we are in a birthing season, and that a birthing has contractions, but it also has periods of respite between the contractions before the next one kicks in. This means, after the traumas of the 2020's decade, when the asteroid threat has passed, there will be another one of those respite periods where the whole Earth again gets a chance to breathe a sigh of relief and reflect for a while.

Even these times are designed by God to bring the people of the Earth to him, so good things will be happening in the Church at that time.

When there is war, it has an extremely divisive effect in the world. By definition a war has two or more sides. But when it comes to a threat of an asteroid, the whole world is on the same side of the threat, so it will instead have a unifying effect.

One thing Christians often forget is that although what we know from Jesus means the future is quite scary, often not knowing what is coming can be worse.

For those that know God, they come to realise he has overall control, and the words of Jesus, although difficult, remind us of that fact.

For those who have no such concept, and see these things as random events, that can be extremely unnerving. But if we are prophetically pre-warned of an asteroid event, it has the effect of reinforcing the view that God has overall control. For those that don't have that assurance, what one asteroid says to them is – there may be more, which is why it means scary times for them, designed to make them ask the right questions about their life.

One thing we find is, when people have a scare where they come close to losing loved ones, they suddenly come to value them in ways they had forgotten, perhaps through distraction or busyness, so their priorities get reshuffled. The asteroid will have this kind of effect on people and it will be the perfect preparation for what God is about to do in the Church in the 2030's, as we will soon discuss.

That, of course, is a positive note. But we have to remember we are in the end-times and the birth must still happen, so for the world the relative peace of this time is only a time of respite between birthing contractions, and it will pass.

For the church, everything that is released by God in each decade is here to stay. That means the 'rest' released in the 2020's will persist in the Church until the end, and the accumulation of blessing that is taking place over each decade will come to make the Church a truly glorious place.

16. The Coming 2030's Decade

Having already in hindsight reviewed the 1st prophetic book in this series – the black book, pertaining to the current decade of the 2020's. And then gone on to examine what to expect for the remainder of this 2020's decade. We now come to the main purpose of this book which is to take a closer prophetic look at what to expect in the coming decade of the 2030's now it is approaching, and to at least take a glance at the decades beyond.

How can we do that?

I alluded to this before when we focused on the 2020's – we can see what will happen by taking the 100 year prophecy mentioned earlier seriously, understanding that this is a prophecy for our time, given to us by the Spirit of God rather than just from a prophet.

Please understand that this is the normal way for God to work. He combines biblical prophecy, with contemporary prophecy, often from multiple sources, and scripture, thereby providing multiple witnesses (Matt 13:52).

Let's first reiterate what was prophesied about the 2030's decade in the 100 year prophecy and those decades that are coming:

2020's – The REST of God.

2030's – The FAMILY of God.

2040's – The KINGDOM of God.

2050's – The SONS of God.

These are the primary revelations and manifestations of God we can expect to see in the Church in these decades.

To reiterate what I said before – this is what will be happening with the Church, but what is happening at the same time in the world in each decade will be something quite OPPOSITE. In that way God will use these revelations and manifestations of God in the Church to draw the people of the world to us who will recognise what we have by the stark contrast between the Church and the world.

Just as this decade of the 2020's has been one where the world has had traumas through the pandemic; the threat of WW3 and nuclear war; and the threat of an asteroid strike. At the same time as the Church is accessing the REST of God because they understand the times they live in. So we can see what is coming for the world in the 2030's decade. It is the OPPOSITE of the FAMILY of God.

Before I get to the details of this, I again want to make the point that the purpose of all this is to shake the world in ways that drive people to us, the Church, and to God, but it is not intended to destroy us, or them. But just to give every human being the best possible chance to turn to Christ and be eternally saved.

Comfort on Earth will not serve that purpose. Many will still choose to try to make this world their nest of comfort in these last-days, as in the days of Noah when the flood was imminent. But these events are necessary because this world is ultimately passing away – and soon, so it is an act of love for God to shake it up and give every person the best chance to receive salvation, and heaven, as I wrote of earlier.

We can now get to the main thrust of this book:

In the 2030's decade, while the Church is experiencing a radical move of the FAMILY of God where people are loved, cared for, protected, and cherished. So at the same time the people of the world will be falling out, arguing, fighting with bitter malice and hatred, rejecting each other, and becoming profoundly selfish and uncaring about others, even to the point of murder. This will lead to widespread conflict and violence that will seriously shake the hearts of many. All of this will loosen their attachment to this world and make them hope for something better.

Here we are not speaking of conquest, as with the white horse, but of peace taken from the Earth so that people are angry and murderous towards each other. For the 2030's, THIS IS THE DECADE OF THE RED HORSE, which is why this book, which is primarily about that decade, is the RED BOOK.

3 When the Lamb opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature say, "Come!" 4 Then another horse came out, a fiery red one. Its rider was given power to take peace from the earth and to make people kill each other. To him was given a large sword. (Rev 6:3-4)

In the text of Zechariah 6:6, the red horse was not given a specific direction as the others were. That is because this horse is released upon the whole earth so there is no particular region of focus, but it will apply everywhere, and to every nation.

At this time we can expect many in the world will be caught up in this who will not just become disgusted with the world, but disgusted with their own behaviour as anger infects them and bitterness takes them over. For that reason we must be ready for the many that will come to us seeking help, deliverance, forgiveness, and salvation for being caught up in it. This will be our ministry to the world in this decade. And this is something we must ask God to prepare us for.

Part of that preparation is to consider how to remove every stronghold and foothold in our own lives so there is no way for us to be drawn into a world like that. I will say more on this in a later chapter, but we need to understand our purpose as Christians is to be IN the world, but not OF the world.

Where churches fail to prepare for this and remain worldly, we can expect them to also experience these kinds of worldly problems of strife between people that will be surging in this decade. Sometimes God sifts believers by letting their problems reach epic proportions so they can't continue to deny them. Lukewarm church is worldly church. And worldly in this decade is not pretty, so worldly churches will find it difficult to maintain their veneer of respectability as these times progress.

The demand of Jesus in the scriptures to even love our enemies is likely to be severely tested, so we need to prepare ourselves for that challenge. At the same time understand that the prophecy of the FAMILY of God in the church means overcoming grace will be released that we can access, and it will differentiate us from the world so we can win them for Christ and let them share what we have in the church.

One ministry we can expect to become prominent in these times is the ministry of deliverance. As things are in the western world, the truth of spiritual possession and oppression are generally denied. Suppressing drugs are the answer of the experts. Then, once suppressed, it can be contained, but rarely solved.

One thing we know about our God is he leaves the 99 sheep and goes after the one that strayed (Matt 18:12-14).

This can be a strange parable unless we are ready to make the obvious conclusion – that the one that strayed and is found and recovered is worth even more to God than so many that never strayed.

One remarkable specialism of God is to turn a messed up life into a glorious victory. In these times there will be many messed up lives, and that is potential for a huge and valuable harvest for God. Through them he will show his power to redeem and restore. It proves beyond question his power over the evil one in a way he never could if none strayed. That has value, not just for this age, but for all ages to come. Heaven is secured for eternity by the testimony of those God rescued.

As we are told in 1 John 3:8, Jesus came to destroy the work of the evil one. Deliverance is a key part of it. God is therefore preparing many who can do this work.

When you visit places like Africa, you find the practice of witchcraft is undeniable, and to a large degree out in the open with those who offer their witchcraft services.

In the west it exists just the same, but it is under another strategy of the enemy. That is to deny the spiritual world even exists, and therefore to deny spiritual possession and oppression are real phenomena.

When demons are forced to leave their host in Africa it can often be a noisy and boisterous affair as these spiritual entities put up resistance. That is normal.

In the western scientific world where these things are denied in favour of a belief in materialism and science, demons are mandated not to make such obvious displays, but to leave quietly if they are forced to do so. That way it doesn't offer evidence of the reality of the spiritual world, so it doesn't induce others with similar problems to seek help.

When it comes to it in the west, that mandate to remain quiet is often ignored by demons because the whole experience of deliverance is for them a shocking and traumatic one, so they can't contain it, especially where they have had control of a human life for many years, or even generations, and are now losing it. This is less true where it is done in a company of people that are already aware of the demonic realm. But where there are some that are ignorant of it, any spiritual powers that make such displays can be subject to severe discipline by their evil spiritual overlords.

Recently I was conducting a healing session online with a Christian woman who had advanced Multiple Sclerosis. As always, I followed the lead of the Spirit of God and began commanding the demonic spirit behind it to leave her. As part of it I was led to command fire on this demon which made it move uncomfortably, which she felt, and it led her to shriek. This was a huge surprise to this person as she thought all spiritual entities in her life had been dealt with, but this showed her beyond doubt her suffering was definitely the product of an attacking demon. Revealing such a thing is part of the solution, so this exposure was what was needed to get the victory over it.

If this is a surprise to you, then trust me, these things are real, but demons often hide themselves to maintain their grip, especially in the west where spiritual realities are often denied.

As we come into this decade of the 2030's, the need will become so great for deliverance, it will become a much more open and revealed phenomena, even in the west. Many will therefore come to believe in it, and realise they need this kind of ministry, so they will come seeking it to get free of their problem. This again will drive souls to the Church and it will bring many to salvation.

A mentor of mine, who was an intercessor, wrote about what she called the 'Paint the dragon red prayer', which is a prayer for the enemy to be fully unveiled so we can deal with him decisively. In the decade of the 2030's we need such intercessors to force the enemy out into the open so the 'deliverers' can engage him in battle.

For any that find such talk scary, one thing you need to understand is that as believers our God is supremely more powerful than these evils beings. We have superior armour, and superior weapons. Jesus told us we will trample them and nothing can by any means harm us. The prize for us is we win the broken ones that have been mercilessly oppressed and possessed; we make them our beloved brothers and sisters in the family of God; and we turn them into fierce warriors that will then join the battle, ready to vent their fury on those demonic forces that oppressed them and rescue their other victims, as they too have been rescued.

In this decade of the RED HORSE, blood will flow through the malice of men towards each other. But so will the blood of Christ to recover and redeem.

Will there be wars in the 2030's decade?

Yes, as always. But as the decade of the red horse it will be more induced through malice and hatred between people than through a desire for conquest.

Conquest is the domain of the white horse, whereas the red horse is much more about taking peace from the Earth so people vent their malice and hatred towards each other in both unrest and war.

That covers the bad news, but one thing we need to realise is, for the Church in these difficult times the good news is always greater. Jesus said – I have told you these things, so that in me you may have peace. In this world you will have trouble. But take heart! I have overcome the world. (John 16:33).

Where there is trouble, for Christians there is always grace and faith to overcome it. The same Apostle – John, goes on to tell us it is our faith that overcomes the world (1 John 5:4), and the Apostle Paul assures us we will never be tested beyond what we are able to bear, which will always be true (1 Cor 10:13).

These are our protection in these times that God's promises will never fail us. But what God is releasing on the Church in these times will go way beyond this, and will be the real marvel. Two things will become supremely evident in the Church in these times – God's power, and God's love. It is God's purpose to win every soul to his salvation, and we are told, again by John, by the love we have for each other all men will know we are Christ's disciples (John 13:35).

When we look at the pockets of revival that continually happen in the Church in various places, what characterises them most is the love that is poured out so people come to genuinely and sacrificially care for each other. This happens because people are encountering the love of God in a greater measure than they have known before, and that automatically makes them see each other in those terms.

In our time, this kind of outpouring will reach its fullness, such that what came before will be seen as only a foretaste.

While the world is hating, the Church will be loving, and that will reveal the darkness of the world even more (Rom 5:5). Through it many will come to salvation, and God will prepare us to also pour out his love on them as we receive them into his FAMILY and his Kingdom in the great harvest of these times.

This ride of the red horse of the apocalypse that takes peace from the Earth is the main event for the 2030's, but as with the black horse of the 2020's, there will be many other 'sideshows'. These are lesser things, but nevertheless significant, all designed to make people seek God and be saved. What Christians need to do is simply ready themselves for this, understanding the times they live in, always keeping themselves in a place of peace and rest, and available for God to use them in his service, as he wills.

17. God's Unchanging Promises

Let's reiterate again: When it comes to the end-times we need to realise every promise God has given us is as true for us as ever. We have his written word, and all of that stands true to the end.

If God promises to provide for us, then it applies to the end-times as much as any time. The same goes for promises of healing, protection, deliverance, peace, joy and all that defines us as a people of God.

In fact we should go further and say it is God's purpose and will for us that we stand fast in these things in the end-times as a demonstration to the world of our confidence in God so they too can come and share it.

Remember, this time is all about harvest.

Realise this – when the scriptures say it is God's will that all are saved, he is committed to do the utmost to accomplish that. The cross of Christ carries exactly that message.

During these times we, the Church, will be receiving grace to be the Family of God and love each other as never before. That love will be spilling over in the Church to such a degree that believers even become self-sacrificial in order to win people to Christ, seeing them as brothers and sisters even before they are won. This is where the true love of God will shine as bright as ever. The kind of love that all people want, so it will be extremely attractive to those who live in a world where such love is so lacking.

Jesus specifically instructed us to pray and ask the Lord of the Harvest to send out harvesters. This is an important prayer that must be prayed, and having prayed it, it must be answered. This is God's will and promise.

What has just happened in Iran may well turn out to be a global answer to this very prayer. There has been significant revival in that nation for some time now, even while the Islamic regime has tried to repress them. These ones have undoubtedly prayed for the release of their nation from the clutches of Islam, and this revolution is the result.

From here we can anticipate many Iranians now realising how powerful God is, and being called by God to take his gospel to the world.

Peace is both a promise and our portion. Even when the battle is raging, and all seems bleak, with God peace can be found. The scripture promises about God – You will keep in perfect peace those whose minds are steadfast because they trust in you (Isaiah 26:3).

As some have pointed out, we already know the end and our side wins. So why should we not be happy?

What makes the end-times exciting is we can expect God to do mightier things in these times than ever seen before in the history of the world. We are told, in these times some will do exploits.

We don't yet know exactly what this means, and that is part of the adventure. What we can expect is for these things to be impressive. That makes it a great privilege for any believer that is called to these times, or even to be the ones that are doing these things.

It is a battle for hearts and minds. The enemy will be out there trying to slander and trash it, and if we take the warnings of scripture, many will be taken in by that opposition. But Jesus said – I will build my church and the gates of hell will not prevail against it (Matt 16:18). That means God has a strategy to overcome everything the enemy comes up with and in the end God's purpose is unstoppable.

18. The Original Church to Come

One thing I will be continually coming back to in these books is God's purpose to make the Church everything it was always intended to be in these times.

The church must burn bright before Jesus returns, as it did once before in its early days.

The previous chapters defined what grace God is releasing to the Church for the 2030's decade – that the Church will become the true Family of God. This chapter defines some aspects of how that will be accomplished. We have turned our churches into lecture theatres, but they should really be family gatherings, and places of power more than words. They are places of worship, along with fellowship, faith, and fun. Places where we get to share our lives – like family, and also take care of the real spiritual needs people have.

The scriptures are clear on how it should function, but it has been ignored for so long in favour of our traditions and preferences that many will have no idea what I am talking about.

When I wrote the 2020 book – the first book of this end-times series, it came immediately after I was led to write about the Church and how it should function. The 2020 book was given to me because I asked God how he would authenticate the book on Church. So this book, and the first in the series, along with the prophetic confirmations, are all ways God is highlighting how he wants us to do church, as I have written.

This book on church is called 'The Origin Church to Come' because it is about getting back to what God originally gave us, from which we have long since deviated.

In truth I am assured by the Lord that this book about church is actually still a draft, but that will always be so. The reason is because the rest of it can only be learned by doing it and letting the Holy Spirit lead the way. All the book does is lay down again the foundational truths and practices that have been lost. But it is Jesus who is the builder of the Church, so this book is only the starting place for him to work.

In that respect the book on church is the most important book I have written because this is HOW God plans to reap the harvest of the last days.

In the same way that the LAW was given to prove man cannot make himself righteous, so God has allowed man to do CHURCH his way, and has shown us just how much that too fails.

As this true and original form of church rises again, the vast difference between it and what man has made of his own design will be shown up for what it is.

In the end the message will be clear – God's way is the only way. That is a key principle that God wants every creature in his universe to realise and believe. If that lesson is learned robustly by all, as God intends, there will never be any danger of another fall of either man or angel, which is what God is bringing us to through it all.

The key truth in this model of Church is that it is a true servant model, as the scriptures define it, and not the king model that man has turned it into over the years. What this means is, all members can become active to fulfil their role, and the Holy Spirit becomes the one in the driving seat, rather than man.

Each time I was led to express these ideas of how Church should be, it has been accompanied by strong confirmations. In many ways my whole life has been leading up to this, but after each iteration in trying to express it I have been led to put it on the back burner for a while, to wait for the right time.

Other prophetic voices have also come along over the years to express these same things. Some saying it is not yet time for it. However, this series of prophetic books is itself a sign, designed by God to bring it to the fore in our day to emphasise how important it is for our mission in the last-days to be accomplished.

Can we afford to ignore it?

No, we can't. If we are not found doing what the master wants in these times, it is inevitable we end up doing the will of another. Where churches experience a loss of first love – like the Ephesians, or become lukewarm – like the Laodiceans, the world will get into the church. If that happens then instead of Family, as God intends, we will find churches experiencing the same kind of strife that is emerging in the world, and that will spell the end for such a church – as Jesus said it would.

I occasionally hear some speak of being in the sweet spot of God's will. This is a place we all want to be, even if we don't realise it. It involves a close and personal walk with God that once we have tasted it, we will always crave for, so to get it, out of love for him we do what he wants.

It is God's intention to bring many people into such a place in these days, where God himself becomes their reward, as he was for Abraham, the father of our faith (Gen 15:1).

Like most things with God, this is there for the asking, as God is more than ready to give us anything that is good, and this is in fact the best.

The sacrifice is for us to lay down what we want, or the way we think things should be done, to do it his way. And this is more than true of the way we do church.

One thing we must realise about God is he is no tyrant, and he resists to the last making us do what he wants. Instead he speaks to us, leading and guiding us into his purposes. If we resist and make him sit at the back of our churches, he will do it. But still, as long as people gather there in his name, he will be good to his promise of being there in the midst, even if he is given no freedom to do anything.

As we come further into these last-days, doing the will of God becomes more critical. We can therefore be sure God will find people through whom he can move as he wants, but the invitation is there to all of us not to miss out on this in these times.

19. Lord Of The Horse Race

In January 2026, before writing this 2nd book of the ‘End-Times’ series, I was led by the Spirit of God to write a book called – The Adventure Of Prophecy, which can be found free online.

https://trevormaddison.com/About_Adventure.html

This book selectively recounts nearly five decades of my experience with the gift of prophecy, showing the many fulfilments there have been for me over the years, some of which are still to come.

Even that book includes current prophecy that has been fulfilled, as I shared earlier. When God has a purpose for you he oversees it, so everything I do tends to work towards that purpose. The scriptures tell us that for all of us, God has works that he prepared in advance for us to do.

Some who are inclined towards a legalistic mind-set receive that as a source of pressure. But the truth is, all of this is only accomplished by grace.

Take the Apostle Paul for instance. His works were immense. But he has this to say about it – But by the grace of God I am what I am, and his grace to me was not without effect. No, I worked harder than all of them—yet not I, but the grace of God that was with me. (1 Corinthians 15:10)

You see, we call Jesus Lord for a reason. That is because he is in fact Lord. When we surrender ourselves to him he goes ahead and implements the life and ministry he always designed for us; that he prepared for us from the foundation of the world, long before we arrived on the scene.

No man even comes to Jesus unless the Father draws him, so he is Lord of it.

Is our will free? Yes.

Do we have to be compliant in these works? Yes.

But he even takes on the task of bringing us to the place where we will be compliant of our own free will. That's just how great he is (Phil 2:13).

Remember what Jesus said – that we can do NOTHING apart from him (John 15:5). No-one earns their way to heaven because none of that is by works. We are saved by grace through faith alone. There is no other way. All our works that follow are also by grace through faith in the same way, and designed by God, not us. Anything else God has to break in us because by ourselves we cannot be depended on for anything, as all of us have to learn.

In the 'Adventure' book I mentioned, I shared the following about the 2020 prophetic book, the first in this series...

Why did God choose me to write it? – Some who know me ask. My first answer is – Why not? That's up to him who he chooses, and he doesn't need a high flyer, just someone who will be obedient.

The same was true of Mary, the mother of Jesus. She was an ordinary young Jewish girl that God chose to bring the fulfilment of the prophecy of a virgin birth from more than seven centuries earlier.

There is always big push-back from some with the kind of message God gave me for 2020 – largely I think because some are not ready and are scared by it. Some are so transfixed with this world they simply don't want it. But they are the type of person that definitely needs this message because they need to begin to 'look up' as Jesus said, and be looking for better. It is actually designed to be a blessing to them, even if they don't realise it.

What I do feel is that God has prepared me over the years to take the kind of flack and grief that comes from this kind of push-back, and from the spiritual warfare that surrounds it as the enemy tries to shut it down.

Only I know the many ways it has been challenged since I released it. God's prophet has to be ready to be maligned, abused, and lied about as the mud begins to fly.

We find ourselves at the end of the procession and Satan never stops looking for volunteers he can use for his dirty work. Taking that abuse is all part of the job.

God said to Ezekiel he would make his forehead like flint, as a prophet to the people. Not everyone is able or willing to carry that, but God does prepare some of us for it.

In many ways, being the herald of this message was a difficult thing because I seemed to be standing alone unsupported in it.

Normally you would expect other prophetic voices to be confirming it with their own prophecies, whereas I found that many had nearly the opposite message of a year of prosperity in 2020.

I think the truth is messages of trouble are not popular, whereas messages of prosperity are. For anyone concerned about the effect on their followers, and ultimately their revenue stream, they would be reluctant to represent it.

Perhaps I was the right person because I really didn't care about those things, and I would release it for little or no financial profit.

One confirmation that did come to me later, after the troubles of 2020 had begun, was that God highlighted to me my birthdate – 24/7/60. This revelation came as I was about to turn age 60 in 2020. What God showed me is that my birthdate is actually all time related numbers – 24 hours in a day, 7 days in a week, and 60 minutes in an hour and seconds in a minute. And now here I was turning 60 when I was prompted to give this prophecy that is all about God's times and seasons.

The remarkable thing about this is – Here I was having been around for 60 years, having seen and written that date many times, and its significance had never once occurred to me. I believe God was showing me he had given me a specific commission to speak into this key time for the Earth – as the commencement of the birthing season, and my birthdate was serving as a confirmation of it.

If all of this together doesn't authenticate the prophetic gift then I don't know what does. But in all honesty I do have to admit to some blunders with prophecy, as sometimes happens, so let's also take a closer look at that and how it can happen.

Also in the 'Adventure' book I shared a miracle that God did in 2008 that he also used to give me a special message about the length and purpose of my life:

One Saturday we were doing Healing on the Streets and evangelism in Nottingham market square. We had a competent team doing healing so I let them get on with it and I started inviting people to come and get prayer as they passed by.

I approached one guy and asked – Can we pray for you for healing? He said – No thanks, I am going to the betting shop. I just smiled, said ok, and bid him good day. Then as he walked away God said to me – Why didn't you pray for his bet?

This took me by surprise as it never even occurred to me, and I had to question whether I was actually hearing God or just imagining it. I then prayed – Ok Lord, if that is you speaking then please bring up an opportunity like that again.

The following Saturday, just one week later, I was in another town ten miles away, again doing healing on the streets, and again I asked a passer-by if he would like us to pray for him for healing. As on the previous week this guy said – No thanks, I am going to the betting shop.

Now please understand that in all my years of doing ministry like this, these are the only two times anyone responded like that.

I then said – Can I pray for your bet?

At that his eyes lit up and he said – Yes please. I then had him sit on a bench in the square so I could pray for him.

His name was John. He told me every Saturday he would come with his two friends to the town square, go to the pub for a drink, and then head to the betting shop where he would put his money on two horses in the same race. That way he has double the chance of winning. He would then head back to the pub with his friends and wait for the race.

I prayed – Lord please give John wisdom today as he goes into the betting shop and show him which horses to put his money on. Please bless John with a win today. Amen.

He then headed off to the betting shop at the edge of the square to place his bet.

After about 15 minutes in there John emerged from the betting shop with his two friends, looking very excited. He came over to me and said – I put my money on two horses in the same race. One called 'Heaven Sent' and the other called 'Halfway to Heaven'. Both of them at odds of 7-to-1.

Later that day I looked up the result of the race. Halfway to Heaven had won the race by a nostril.

Not everyone has a God that would do such a thing, but mine would... and did. Fortunately for the sceptics every race that is ever run in this internet age is recorded and the result remains accessible to all – so here, see for yourself...

<https://www.racingpost.com/results/21/goodwood/2008-08-02/461377/>

For me that was fun, and of course a real miracle. But God often does these unusual things with a purpose. Of course part of it is to speak to these guys in a unique way that they would understand, but there was more to it than that.

About 6 months after this happened I was having a devotional time with God and he said to me – Do you remember which horse won the race?

I said –Yes, it was Halfway to Heaven.

Then God said to me – That was because on that day you were halfway to heaven.

So, as a result of this miracle God told me when I am due to leave this world – the very day.

Looking at this race result in hindsight, as a Christian believer knowing God was involved, if we were forced to pick a winner it would have been easy to predict as it has the hallmark of all the 7's attached to it – the number 7 being a signature number of God. Its 'Saddlecloth Number' was 7. Its 'Post Position' (POS) was also 7, meaning the starting stall number from which it ran. And when the person I prayed for made the bet they got odds of 7 to 1.

This is also significant for us for another reason. That God has used the number 7 as a kind of signature for what he is doing in these last-days, as he did for the population number in the first book that kicked off the birthing season. This is a marker we can expect to continue to come up throughout the end-times as another testimony that it is God's purpose for those that can receive it.

For those that are now having a religious reaction who think I must be a gambler, I am not. Except that on a few occasions over the years I remember joining in an office sweepstake on an annual national race we have in the UK called the Grand National. So I have no issues with those who do it, but I am glad if they do it responsibly. I do actually like to see the horses race, as I love animals, and they seem to enjoy it. One of my favourite movies is ‘Secretariat’, which is all about horse racing. I realise some of you can’t take this, but in view of how God used it, both for evangelism and as a sign, you may want to check you are singing from the same hymn sheet as God, and check if it is quite the issue for him as it is for you.

In the Adventure book I went on to share some of the reasons why I believe God told me this detail of how long I will live. One of those reasons is that if I ever travel with people on an airplane or do something similar that makes them nervous, I can say – Don’t worry, I know when my time is up and it’s not yet, so you will be ok.

What I now realise, as I write this book, is there is more to this than I thought. God has shown me my time to exit this world, and it doesn’t come until the 2050’s, so if you are living on this planet with me and passing through scary times, like potential annihilation by an asteroid, at least we have an indication of the season and the timeline, as God intended, even if we don’t know the day and the hour of the end.

The one proviso I have added to all of this is that the scriptures say at any time God may cut this history short, as the scriptures say he will when it gets too scary (Matt 24:22).

So what I am saying here does not override the fact that none of us know when Christ will return, and it will still be at an unexpected time, but I am just reassuring you that the threats that the Earth faces are in God's full control.

If God can make a horse win a race by a mere nostril, he can also control the end-times on this planet down to the fine detail.

On this note, the one further thing that the Spirit of God is now prophetically saying to me through this horse race, for the purposes of this book, is that HE IS THE LORD OF THE HORSE RACE. And here he is speaking about the four horses of the apocalypse. As such, this horse race was a sign in a number of ways that are still being revealed.

Please understand, as I have said before, it is not God's purpose that any of his children should be worried by all this. Quite the opposite. That is why he is prophetically informing us. What he wants is for us, his children, to have full confidence in him to bring us through these times and events so we will continue to have the rest he released to us in the 2020's all the way to the end, whatever happens, and we will continue to stand as a beacon of hope to the people of the world that God wants us to harvest for his Kingdom through these times.

20. The Last Three Seals

Having discussed the decade of the 2020's, and the 2030's decade that is the main focus of the this book. Before I cover the following two decades and how they relate to the 100 year prophecy, I want to say something about the last three seals that are broken in Revelation chapter 6.

First to recap on Revelation chapter 6:

Seal 1 – White horse

Seal 2 – Red Horse

Seal 3 – Black Horse

Seal 4 – Green Horse

Seal 5 – Martyrdom

Seal 6 – End of the Age

Seal 7 – Scroll of Wrath Opens

For the first 5 of these seals, all of the things they represent occur throughout the times of tribulation that have been happening from before the days of Jesus, and for the four decades from the beginning of the birthing season in 2020 onwards, which are the times of great tribulation. The time of wrath only begins after this when the final seal – the 7th seal, is broken so the scroll of wrath is then open.

However, as covered in the first book of the series, the children of God are not appointed to suffer wrath, so they are taken by rapture on the breaking of the 6th seal where they appear in heaven before the Great White Throne as the Great Multitude (Rev 7), and on the 6th seal all the other necessary preparations for the time of wrath are made, both on Earth and in Heaven, ready for breaking the final 7th seal and the opening of the scroll by the Lamb.

Coming back to the first 5 seals, there is no specific order as they are all active together, but as we approach the end of the age, we come to what is called – The Great Tribulation – which has all the same kind of things that have been happening before, but now intensified as we get towards the final birthing.

Again let me reiterate, here we are only talking about the events of the era of tribulation, and not those of wrath. The dividing line is the breaking of the 6th seal when the rapture occurs.

What we are showing here in this series of end-times books is that for each of the last four decades, one of the four horses is predominant, so the events of one of the first four seals is always leading the way.

When it comes to the 5th seal, which is all about martyrdom of the saints, this has been happening all along throughout the times of tribulation, and has NEVER stopped. We can expect this to continue, and become more of an issue than ever before as the end approaches, so we need to be prepared for that eventuality.

For those that are scared by this fact let me say that martyrdom is a calling and it only happens for those God prepares for it. If we are fearful of it, we must cast off that fear, as always, and put our trust in God that he will be as good to his word for us as he always is, right to the end. We have a firm promise that God will never allow us to be tested beyond what we are able to bear (1 Cor 10:13), and that promise is valid for us right to the end of our lives, even though we are warned there will be persecution.

As we begin to look at the final two decades we can expect this intensification, as will become clear when we come to discuss it. However, remember that incredible things will be happening in the Church in these times. Things never seen before that have been called 'exploits' in the scriptures (Daniel 11:32) so these will be epic times for the church.

Remember that the purpose of the age we live in is to bring as many as possible to Christ before judgement and wrath begins, so the church will be functioning with immense power and authority in these times, pushing back the tide of evil as never before, even though these are stormy times.

Remember, there is no victory without a battle.

God's intention is to reveal evil for all it is, in all of its ugliness, but also, at the same time, to reveal his goodness and power to the fullest extents, as never before.

Let me ask – Would you really opt to miss such times if you had the opportunity to see them?

What God will do for you personally in such times will be transformed into treasure in heaven like nothing else could, waiting for you when you arrive – which of course all of us at some time must. If you really understood that then I don't think any of you would have a problem making a positive choice about it.

21. Designing the Cover

God often encourages us with the small things. These can speak to us even more than the bigger things because it shows the degree of control God has. These things often come as confirmation, so here is one I decided it would be good to share with you.

When I created the cover image for the 1st book in the series, I was aware I was being led by the Spirit in creating that image as much as in the actual writing, but I didn't know exactly why or how. The cover shows the four horses of the apocalypse in a rotational pattern and order.

If we look at that design on the 1st book as if it were the face of a clock, the black horse comes in the first quarter of the clock. When I wrote the book and designed the cover I chose the colour black for the background of the book. What I didn't know when I wrote it was that this would be the decade of the black horse. The black horse is focused on the north – on Russia, and Russia has been the central theme of the 2020's decade along with the other troublesome countries they have allied themselves with. Though the decade is beginning and ending with other tribulations for our planet, this has been the dominant theme throughout most of the decade.

Then, following the clockwise path, the next horse is Red, then White, then Green. As I began writing this second book in the series, I realised the 100 year prophecy, that I have continually alluded to, is telling me the horses that apply as the predominant one for each of the coming decades. What I didn't realise is the horses on the front cover, that is used for all this series of books, has these horses in exactly the right order.

Listing in clockwise order:

BLACK horse – 2020's – The REST of God.

RED horse – 2030's – The FAMILY of God

WHITE horse – 2040's – The KINGDOM of God

GREEN horse – 2050's – The SONS of God.

For the cover of each subsequent book in the series, I rotate the cover image by 90 degrees anticlockwise, which means the horse in the top-right quarter is always the main one the book is about.

I have already covered how the first two of these horses in the scriptures align with the 100 year prophecy, covering the 2020's (black horse) and 2030's (red horse). Then there are two chapters in this book that come later that are about the last two decades that follow – the 2040's and 2050's, and those chapters will give a preview of what to expect when those times arrive.

Here we have a case of the written Logos word of scripture coming together with the Rhema word of prophecy, showing us the full plethora of means by which God speaks his word to us. These words – Logos and Rhema – are the Ancient Greek words used in the Bible for the 'Word' of God.

For those that have missed it, the scriptures say – Faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the word of God (Rom 10:17). And – the Sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. (Eph 6:17). In both cases the Greek word used here for these scriptures is the Rhema word of God. Which is the specific word that the Spirit of God is speaking for any particular time or situation.

Just as I was not completely aware of the meaning of these details on the cover image when I designed it, so I believe the prophet Bob Jones would not have been fully aware of all the details of his prophecy when he gave it, for the simple reason that this was actually the Lord's prophecy and he is the inspiration behind it, so we need him to also explain it to us.

The many fulfilments that have come from these prophecies speak a language of their own, some of which become obvious in hindsight, but at the time they are given they are often not understood or received, or are even ridiculed. It's just part of the job of a prophet to accept that.

Sometimes in the prophetic circles I move in, creative people listen to God and draw or paint what they are inspired to create. When you examine these artistic creations you can usually see the message they are conveying, but there is often hidden depth to them which can be revealed when you ask the Lord, who is the source, to explain it.

This is true for the cover image of these books. All of it has meaning. The grey skies depict the times. The clockwise order of the horses and their colours depict the order of coming events. Even the colour of the bases on which the horses are standing has meaning, though these are the finer details that came through inspiration for which the full meaning had yet to be revealed when it was created. Finally the colour of each book was set according to the colour of the predominant horse for that decade.

When I come to the relevant decade I will draw out more of this meaning, but there may yet be more of it I have not yet spotted. If so it may be revealed in the later books of the series when they come.

22. The 2040's Decade

If you have grasped the message of this book, you will have picked up how we can know what to expect in the coming decades, based on the prophetic word of the 100 year prophecy.

Some will complain that all of this is not in the Bible. To you I ask and reiterate – do you understand the difference between the Logos word of God, and the Rhema word of God.

A Rhema word is something that God speaks into a current time and/or situation.

Faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the Rhema word of God (Rom 10:17).

The sword of the Spirit is a Rhema word of God (Eph 6:17).

How can words specifically spoken into decades that are 2,000 years after the Bible was written appear in the Bible? I am showing how these words match the scriptures, and that is all we should expect. Of course, what is spoken as a Rhema word for our times must not contravene the scriptures, but God does have rhema things to say about the many personal details of our lives, as he does to the whole world in our time.

Equally, when Joel 2:28 promises dreams and visions, these are clearly from God, but can't be in the Bible.

In this book, with the four horses of the apocalypse, we are drawing on the Old Testament (Zech 6:6); the New Testament (Rev 6); and a Rhema word of prophetic revelation from a prophet who proved reliable in our times, even if not perfect – the 100 year prophecy. Put that together with the prophetic fulfilments of the first book of this series and there is a kind of perfection to the way God is giving this to us, given that fulfilled prophecy is clearly his hallmark.

Realise also that this 100 year prophecy is in fact a prophecy of the Spirit of God, not man, as for all true prophecy. Had one man not spoken it, another would because these gifts are both given and used by God, for God, so we should receive it in that way. The same would have been true if I didn't write these books because the Spirit would then lead someone else to do it. It is even possible that someone did refuse, so I then got the job.

What we are seeing in this book is that one of the horses of the apocalypse can be identified as the prominent horse for each of the last four decades, from the 2020's to the 2050's, as spoken of in the 100 year prophecy.

For the 2020's decade it is the Black Horse that shows Russia returning to scarcity in this decade as the primary event. The unravelling of Russia has led to the downfall of a number of rogue nations it was allied with and supporting, so Russia is and has been the key focus of this decade.

For the 2030's decade, which this book is about, we looked ahead to see this is the decade for the Red Horse where peace is taken from the Earth and there is conflict.

This brings us to the 2040's decade, that at the time of writing this 2nd book, is also yet to come. The 100 year prophecy told us this is the decade of the Kingdom of God. But remember, this only defines what is taking place with the church, as it did for the other decades, and what is taking place in the world at the same time is again OPPOSITE.

Satan is also about building a kingdom. A key part of that is to conquer and dominate nations and empires. History has shown us that this can result in great evil and become a threat to global peace and stability. So here, at this time of the 2020's in 2026, we see what could be regarded as a kind of counteroffensive of God's Kingdom against Satan and his empire building with Russia, Iran, Venezuela, and others now falling.

Earlier I wrote of the bloodlust of the hordes that Satan leads. When he gets control of regions of the Earth through tyranny, his forces are pleased because they again get some gratification of that bloodlust. Often they get that kind of gratification through wars.

This brings us to realise that the 2040's decade is to be the last-days decade of the white horse – the horse that is bent on conquest, where Satan seeks to establish his 'kingdom' at the same time as the Church is experiencing great advancement of the Kingdom of God.

And yet again we can see from the white horse prophecy, it will again head west from Israel to Europe, and to those same countries from which war and conquest was propagated before. The cause is unclear, but as the ideology of the age can again be expected to be antisemitism, it gives us clues as to what the driving forces will be.

War is never pretty. But Jesus specifically told us there would be both wars and rumours of war, right up to the end.

When man invents new weapons it seems almost inevitable there comes a time when he wants to test and try them to advance his power and dominion in the Earth.

The exception seems to be nuclear weapons, even though they have been used, because they are so powerful they will mean the destruction of all. Since that time nations have been posturing by testing nuclear weapons in various places in the Earth in order to warn each other, so in all more than 2,000 nuclear bombs have been exploded in the Earth so far. However, as of the 2020's man seems to have returned to using conventional weapons freely, which have no threat of mutual mass destruction, even though such wars are fought in the shadow of nuclear weapons, which is a great source of fear for many in the world.

One highly significant thing that has been advancing at a rapid rate during the Russia-Ukraine war is robotic warfare. This has mainly come in the form of drones that either fly or swim, but also robots that walk on the Earth that operate either remotely, autonomously, or they can accompany and support soldiers.

As we speak, the technology of robotics is pushing forwards rapidly in multiple nations because it is perceived to be the next great means of warfare, so to be behind in these technologies is seen to be risking defeat and potential domination, even if no-one is freely talking about it.

I will include a chapter that outlines the key things to know about the advancement of robotics, but here I simply want to register it as something that is certainly coming and will be prominent in warfare in the 2040's decade, if not before, so we need to know about it.

For any that think this is sheer speculation, I must point you to the four beasts described by the prophet Daniel in Daniel chapter 7. I included a chapter in the Black Book on these beasts, so you can refer back to that. The last and most fearsome of these beasts is clearly pointing to a day when the beast that is dominating is at least partly metal, with metal teeth and claws.

Perhaps the scariest thing about this decade is the news that there will again be world conquest, and what comes last must be more traumatic than what came before, including the world wars. That is remarkable, given what has gone before in the world wars, but is simply the nature of the end-times, when the big push of the birthing comes.

One prophetic detail that can be derived from the design of the cover, is the colour of the base of the white horse. Originally I made this white in line with the base of the other horses, but it didn't seem right. When I changed it to black, however, as with the black horse, it suddenly looked perfect and I had the usual prophetic affirmation of the Spirit about it that this is how it should be.

What this detail points to is that Russia will again be at the root of these wars in the 2040's decade, again politically aggravating nations, even though they are in a depleted state after the events of the 2020's.

Considering what has gone before for conquest and world wars, these will be difficult times, but the same message applies that while this is happening in the world, the very opposite will be happening in the church.

When the Kingdom of God comes in this decade of the 2040's, there will be many expressions power, as there were with Jesus, and through it many will be born again and become part of his Kingdom.

The fact that Jesus is the Lord of Lords, and King of Kings must be fully expressed in these end-times decades.

In these times we can expect both the rest that was released to the Church in the 2020's to continue, along with the grace to become the Family of God in the 2030's. These become permanent features of the Church right up to the end.

I expect more will be revealed, and there will be more to say as this decade of the white horse in the 2040's approaches, but it is enough for us now to just know about it so we are prepared and not surprised by it when it comes.

23. The Robotic Age

Robots are already here. They have been doing a lot of useful work for the human race for some time now, manufacturing things like cars and many other products.

Anything manufactured this way is going to be very inexpensive to buy, so the products they create are highly competitive and will take over their markets. The result is an increase in the standard of living of most people as they are able to own more products for their money.

Of course, there has always been the fear that these robots will replace humans so they are no longer needed. So far robotics has not got that far, but the rapidity of development is quite astonishing and it seems like it will soon be ready to take over numerous jobs.

As things stand, there are many voices warning of the dangers, while at the same time there is an unstoppable momentum to it, partly through competition, but also from that threat of dominance through war for those that don't compete.

At least one company has already begun to mass produce humanoid robots, and others are due to come on-stream soon, probably within a year.

Why have they chosen the humanoid form when robots can have any form factor?

Well, probably because the human form with dexterous fingers has proved to be the ultimately versatile and successful form factor in the biological world. Also, it is the form we have ourselves, and know well, so we are best placed to understand how it works and what can be done with it.

Of course drones have a different form factor, as do four legged robots that have also already entered both the military and domestic arena to some degree. That means we as a species have been mastering land, sea, and sky with these machines. Of course, war is fought in all these arenas so that has provided an incentive for those developments.

Perhaps one other reason for developing humanoid robots is these machines can be made to appear friendly, like us. However, there is something of an illusion there for the simple reason that any robot can be quickly and easily scaled to any size. That means from the tiny, to the huge. Imagine meeting a humanoid robot that is three times the height of a normal human, or more, and made of metal. Suddenly that takes on a whole new complexion, so the question that everyone who meets them is compelled to ask is – Is it safe?

Where a weapon is given to a machine like that the capacity for aggression is formidable. Such a machine with a gun will never miss a target as it is a precision weapon and considerably more accurate than a human.

This has to be seen as a hugely scary thing, and not the kind of power that we would want to fall into the wrong hands.

Robot wars have been a source of amusement and competition for some time now, but it looks like the world stage will soon be set for the very same kind of thing on the global level in real wars.

In some ways, that has already been true for some time as we have been fighting wars with manned machines for a while now. However, this represents a significant change, possibly to the point where human beings on the front lines of war becomes a thing of the past.

Perhaps the scariest part is that when the robots have finished fighting it out, and there is a clear winner, they can then be used to subdue and dominate the people of the nation that was defeated.

This is no longer science fiction but a fast approaching reality.

One of the main justifications that is made for robots is they will replace the need for human labour where those labour markets are now shrinking or insufficient for industry.

Another is that the productivity of robots is the only thing that will meet the debt obligations of nations that have grown to unprecedented levels of debt at this time.

Yet another is that the kind of jobs robots will initially replace are the monotonous ones that no human really wants to do anyway – particularly production line jobs.

All of this, together with the war threat, means the development of robotics has momentum, partly driven by industry and competition, but also by politicians as there is anticipation that maybe, just maybe, this phenomena can be controlled for the good of the human race; a possibility no-one is willing to forego as it could potentially even be the salvation of our species if it can be controlled.

Exactly how far is all of this away from happening?

Answer: It is much nearer than most people realise.

This is partly because another technology has recently developed at the same time as robotics, which is the technology of AI – or as it is also known in this context – machine learning. Robots are advancing rapidly as a result of this; soon to be able to do almost anything a human can do.

As we stand, the company Tesla, headed by Elon Musk, is close to completion of their humanoid Optimus 3 robots that have humanlike finger dexterity. Once they reach production, which is in a matter of months, not years, the plan is to manufacture 20,000 to 30,000 of these robots and put them in a huge building where they are set on the task of AI learning so they can reach a point where they can be used in more tasks in manufacturing, with a view to fully automating the production lines for even complex products.

With robots, once one robot learns a task, all the robots also learn it, which is a key difference between robots and humans – the need for individual training is removed.

Of course, once this happens, the product these robots will be directed towards producing will be – more robots.

At that point a whole new war begins, as soon as they become profitable, and the momentum will then become unstoppable as all human limitation to production are close to being completely removed.

What we hope with all this is we humans still have control of a power plug we can pull, or a button we can press in case of emergencies, when we are close to totally losing control.

When looking at all this, for those that take the Bible seriously, the last of the four beasts the prophet Daniel wrote of in Daniel chapter 7 becomes extremely ominous. Especially as this beast has horns which points to armies and the political powers behind them.

War has a way of rapidly advancing technology as nothing else does. We saw this in a big way in both the World Wars, but it has also been true in the Russia-Ukraine war to an astonishing degree. We just live in a technological age where these things have become possible.

There is a law we call Murphy's law, which says – Anything that can go wrong, will go wrong. This is the supposed law that governs which side a jam butty will land if you accidentally drop it – jam side down.

The problem is, with this new technology the stakes are so much higher. Having seen the evil nature of some of the forces in the world, both in history and in recent wars, there is every reason for anyone without faith to be fearful.

For those with faith, these things will still have to be faced, and the brokenness of the human condition means for them in any case they will be looking beyond this world for the peace they desire as the penchant human nature seems to have for its own destruction may well once again be expressed when this technology becomes available.

24. The 2050's Decade

The 2050's is the final decade of the 100 year prophecy we keep alluding to.

In the 2020's the black horse was predominant, where Russia is reduced to scarcity to contain its aggression. Throughout this decade God has released 'rest' to his church, the body of Christ. That rest is something that will persist for them to the end of the age.

In the 2030's the red horse is predominant, where peace is taken from the Earth so people are without love, and filled with hatred, resulting in violence and death. At the same time God is releasing grace for the Church to rise to become family like never before, in total contrast to what is happening in the world. Within the church, people will be loved, cared for, and valued, and many will come to Christ as a result. That grace of family will continue be with the church to the end of the age.

In the 2040's the white horse is again predominant, where conquest yet again comes to the Earth. As in the other World Wars, this will again stem from Europe and those nations west of Israel. It will then once again spread across the whole Earth. The technology of the age will make this a fearful and unprecedented time. At the same time the Kingdom of God will advance in the world like never before, bringing in many souls. We can expect to see great power and authority used by the Church to stem and restrain the evils that arise in this time, and this kind of authority will be applied by the church to the end of the age.

That brings us to this final decade of the 2050's where good and evil in the world both go exponential, in stark contrast to each other. All of these final four decades, with the relevant horses of the apocalypse, are 'The Great Tribulation'.

These are the decades of the birthing season from when the birthing contractions began in the year 2020.

The many centuries before these decades have all had their traumas, so these could be seen as 'Tribulation', and they were affected by the same horses in their measure for their time. But as with any birthing, the most traumatic time comes at the end, so this is 'The Great Tribulation'; the time that finally leads to the birth. What must therefore happen is the traumas and troubles of these final decades must eclipse what went before, but at the same time the Church also rises to restrain and overcome it as never before (2 Thes 2:7).

For the final 2050's decade, the green horse is the one that is riding. It should be no surprise that this horse comes last because it is clearly the worst of them all, and so consistent with the greatest time of tribulation coming at the end. For this horse Death and Hades is following behind, and the traumas that are listed bring the worst of the previous horses, along with more that has so far not been mentioned.

Actually, some versions of the Bible translate the colour of this horse to be dappled, pale or ashen, rather than green. A dappled horse can have a grey or greenish sheen to it that has an almost translucent quality. This is appropriate because all of these colours have a ghostly quality to them that symbolise death – with Death and Hades following behind, which this horse represents.

A sword is given to this horse, which has been seen before with the red horse as peace is taken from the Earth. But it is here again now, probably in still greater measure, this time together with other devastating evils of famine, pestilence, and death by wild animals which are all part of the troubles of 2050's decade.

Pestilence is prophesied for this time. Given that this whole birthing season began with a pandemic, it should be no surprise that it is also there at the end. But this time it is something much greater, once again designed to shake the world and lead many to look for help from the Church. What we can also expect in these times is for the ministries of the Church to be functioning like never before, so the gift of healing and miracles will also be working as never before, counteracting these evils when they come.

Sickness and disease is far more a product of demons and spiritual problems that most realise. The demons get their morbid satisfaction from the suffering of mankind, so when they are denied it, they sometimes react in a very distressed way. In these times it is the job of the Church to give these malicious beings the beating of their sad lives, denying them the satisfaction they have come to expect.

We can also expect to see great miracles during this decade as God's people do exploits, as the prophet Daniel prophesied (Dan 11:32); some doing works even greater than Jesus did himself during his ministry on Earth (John 14:2).

How does death by wild animals feature in this last decade more than the times that went before. That's an enigma that I can't answer now, just as I couldn't understand the idea of scarcity in Russia when I wrote the 1st book of the series as the war there had not yet begun. However, I could speculate on what would happen if all animals lost their fear of man and suddenly became aggressive. What could cause it? I don't know. Maybe a disease, as the movies have suggested. Or maybe an accident of genetic manipulation that is certainly happening in our day.

As it is the green horse travelling south, this indicates that Africa will be central to this decade and its troubles, but what happens there won't stay there; it will spread throughout the Earth, and we can expect another diaspora of some kind, as I will explain later on the repeating cycle. What will cause it is hard to say, except that it may be a direct result of the evils released there through the green horse at this time.

We are told this affects a fourth of the Earth, and that is roughly the size of the African landmass compared to the rest of the world. The Mercator projection maps we use of the world don't properly reflect the true size of Africa, and exaggerate other parts of the Earth, but it is about a fourth.

Then I observe, when it comes to conflicts in the world, the areas of trouble always seem to be about a quarter of the Earth, even when parts of Africa are relatively peaceful, so this prophecy of the green horse seems to also apply globally as the green horse goes throughout the Earth.

The troubles of this decade will spread from Africa and go throughout the whole Earth again, and as the last of the decades it will contain the worst of the traumas, like the final birthing which brings forth the child. When the child is born it will be snatched away (Rev 12), but at the same time Satan will also be cast down to be judged on Earth in the time of wrath that finally arrives in this decade.

For the purpose of this 2nd book of the series that is intended to be focused on the 2030's, we can only give limited expansion of what is coming for the following decades, but more prophetic information will be given to the Church to handle these times as it approaches, when the time is right. The 2050's decade in particular will need that kind of revelation and preparation, but as always our way is simply to stay in step with the Spirit and be aware and informed of the immediate times we are actually living in, with just sufficient knowledge of what comes next.

Having said that, there is a repeating cycle we can learn from which I will cover separately in a following section. That gives us strong clues on what to expect for these final decades.

So far, for the final 2050's decade, we are looking at the darkest side of the story of what is going to happen in the world. But as always that is completely contrasted and eclipsed by the great purpose of God in that decade, which is the greatest of all.

This is the decade when the Sons of God are revealed. The scriptures tell us this is what the whole creation has been waiting and watching for in ‘eager expectation’ (Rom 8:19), so it is the whole purpose of the age – to bring forth the Sons of God. This is what makes the whole tribulation of the age worth it, where God’s purpose in all of it is finally revealed for all the ages to come.

As for the other decades, like the Israelites in Goshen, the Church and the Sons of God will hold back and restrain the tide of evil in the world, keeping that evil at bay until their evacuation.

That final revelation of the Sons of God comes by the rapture which occurs on the breaking of the 6th seal (Rev 6:12-) where ‘The Great Multitude’ are gathered before the throne of God in heaven (Rev 7), and at the same time evil is cast down to the Earth (Zech 5, Rev 12).

For the Church, who are the Sons of God, this is the final birthing where they are finally revealed, which the whole creation has been eagerly waiting for (Rom 8:19, 8:22).

What then follows is the time of God’s wrath on the Earth, but by that time we Christians who are waiting for his coming will be raptured, evacuated, and gone.

However, before that, as the final birth is approaching, we can expect to see the worst of the evil of the world expressing itself, and the antichrist appearing to lead them. We will cover this in another chapter.

25. The Coming Of Antichrist

I included a section on the antichrist in the 1st book of the series, explaining from the scriptures he will be an extremely charismatic figure, with an irresistible draw that will captivate many people towards the last few years of the birthing season.

In Rev 13:2, he is symbolically depicted in the scriptures as: resembling a leopard – he is a creature of stealth; having feet like a bear – he brutally crushes and suppresses those under his rule; having the mouth of lion – he speaks like a king as a dominant and charismatic ruler.

This is a lethal combination of all the kinds of worldly kingdom we have seen throughout the age.

In short, this man will be someone who is fully possessed by Satan, taking human form, as the antichrist of Christ who did the same.

With Satan and the evil realm there is an impatience for this opportunity. Not because it spells their end, but because they will get some real gratification in these times, and as tormented beings they want to get this over with in their arrogant last hope of thwarting God's purposes.

One main thing this series of books adds to our understanding of the end-times is a timeline. Not one that predicts the exact time of the end, but it defines the season, as do the scriptures where it is all drawn from.

What we have been saying all along is that from the year 2020 onwards, the world has been in the birthing season where there are repeated birthing contractions, interspersed with periods of rest before the next contraction. In these rest times the rampage of evil will be periodically halted, and pushed back by reversals, while the work of the Kingdom of God significantly advances.

However, towards the end of this 40 year birthing season, probably culminating in the 2050's, the antichrist will come to power.

What we know of him is largely there in his name in scripture, which is the lawless one. He will be godless, morally corrupt, having no shame, and will make himself god to the world. His charisma will make that possible in this world that is so increasingly led and transfixed by image, personality, and charisma.

This is very opposite, and 'anti' to Jesus, the Christ, who came disguised, with nothing that would naturally attract us to him. He was just a normal guy with no real status. Those who followed him saw through all that and recognised the real man that lay behind that disguise.

For the antichrist to have such a celebrity image, he will probably be in his prime when he arises. Most likely mimicking Jesus in this respect, so aged around 30 to 33.

So, if the timeline we are offering here is correct, that the 2050's are the final decade of the age, this means this person who will become the antichrist is either here now and very young at the time of writing in mid-2026, or is just being born. That way he will reach his prime age, mimicking Jesus, in the 2050's.

There is some speculation here, for sure, so I am not offering this as a definite revelation, but simply deriving it from what is revealed by the 100 year prophecy of this age and birthing season.

The fact is, the end of the age, when Jesus returns, will come at an unexpected time, so it may be now, or sooner than I am suggesting here. Our only real security is to always stay focused and ready for the coming of the Lord, as we were told by Jesus to be (Luke 21:28).

When the person who will become antichrist arises, we are likely to see him emerge as a world prominent figure who will embrace the spirit of the age and become its champion.

That may be as a politician, or a religious leader, or both. However, we can't say when his possession by Satan will begin, or when his reign in the Earth will begin, but the scriptures intimate that reign will not be possible in its fullness for him before the restraining factor is removed, which is the Church (2 Thes 2:7, Zech 5:11).

As soon as this happens we can expect the antichrist to take a sacred seat of some kind, declaring himself God, becoming the abomination that causes desolation that the scriptures speak of, standing in the holy place (Dan 9:27, 11:31, Matt 24:15-16, Mark 13:14).

The false religion of Islam is waiting for this person to come and rule the world, thinking he is a kind of messiah that they call the Mahdi, and their description of him is very similar to that of the antichrist in the Bible.

One thing about this, that seems incompatible, is the antichrist will be extremely lawless, even though Islam is based on strict law. However, within Islam we have seen this kind of thing before in recent times with the rise of Islamic groups like ISIS that have to some degree been pushed back. These groups have no morals and violate all their own laws, which is a matter of concern to some Muslims. They are therefore often labelled 'Daesh' by Muslims who disapprove of them, as this is an insulting name. However, the antichrist will embrace this kind of life while making war, and for that reason may appeal to those in the world that favour a perverted lifestyle. We have yet to see what moderate Muslims think of that, though they are usually passive through fear of these extremist groups who may also kill them. However, they are likely to be sympathetic to their anti-Semitic ideology that has always been part of their spiritual diet.

Please understand that in all of this God is doing everything to keep his people informed. Not just by the scriptures, but also by contemporary prophets that can keep us alert and informed. As such I was led to herald the birthing season beginning in the year 2020, and to pick up a prophecy of another recent proven prophet who gave us his ultimate 100 year prophecy not long before he left us in 2014.

Through all this Jesus is keeping us informed as he promised so we are not surprised by it (John 16:13).

What all of this should do for us is to make us realise God is in full control, so let's make up our minds to trust him through it all, and be part of the great harvest and the victory the Church will experience in these unprecedented times.

26. The Repeating Cycle

The 100 year prophecy and the order of the horses of the apocalypse reveal a repeating cycle that can be seen to be at work in hindsight as we look back over history, and now at work again in this last season.

One aspect of the prophecy of the horses that has not been covered is the part the four living creatures play in these end-times events.

Also in front of the throne there was what looked like a sea of glass, clear as crystal. In the centre, around the throne, were four living creatures, and they were covered with eyes, in front and in back. 7 The first living creature was like a lion, the second was like an ox, the third had a face like a man, the fourth was like a flying eagle. (Rev 4:6-7)

These 'living' creatures of God have authority over all the living creatures of the Earth, including man, where the eyes that cover their bodies depict that they see and know all things pertaining to the living creation. This authority is why we see them each in turn calling forth a horse of the apocalypse that will profoundly affect all that is living.

As usual, as the word of God, this scripture is packed with information that is there to be uncovered. In the order of the horses and the seals in Revelation 6, we see this:

Rev 6:1 – White Horse – Face: Lion

Rev 6:3 – Red Horse – Face: Ox (or Calf)

Rev 6:5 – Black Horse – Face: Man

Rev 6:7 – Green Horse – Face: Eagle

But the 100 year prophecy has now revealed the order in which these horses become prominent for each of the last four decades of the birthing season – 2020s, 2030s, 2040s, & 2050s – Black, Red, White, & Green.

This order of horses is different to the order in which the seals are broken, but as has already been pointed out – the Zech 6 scripture gives a different order of horses, so there is no specific order there, except the common element that the green horse in both cases comes last. However, we can see evidence of a repeating cycle and order in history, which aligns with the horses discussed for the 100 year prophecy.

These horses have been riding over the centuries, using their authority in their measure for each time in which they are active, releasing tribulation. All the horses are always active at all times in some measure, but one of them is usually significantly more prominent than the others at any one time.

As we discussed in previous chapters, for the 100 year prophecy it reveals these horses have been ordered decade by decade for the last 40 years of the end-times. Now matching these horses to the decades they represent in the last-days we see the following:

2020's – Black Horse – Face: Man

2030's – Red Horse – Face: Ox (or Calf)

2040's – White Horse – Face: Lion

2050's – Green Horse – Face: Eagle

There is a pattern here we can look back on and see has been operating over the centuries. Each of the faces has meaning, and the order in which they occur is important.

To understand the first horse and living creature that has the face of man, we can refer to the first of the four beasts mentioned in the book of Daniel:

‘The first was like a lion, and it had the wings of an eagle. I watched until its wings were torn off and it was lifted from the ground so that it stood on two feet like a human being, and the mind of a human was given to it. (Dan 7:4)

The meaning of all these four beasts is covered in the 1st book of the series, as each representing a form of government.

Beast 1 – King/Monarchy to Democracy – Lion to Human

Beast 2 – Repressive Dictatorship – Bear

Beast 3 – Stealth/Ideology – Leopard

Beast 4 – Repressive – Mechanical/Special/End times only

The first of these beasts gives an image of monarchy converting to democracy, which is a perfect picture of what we have seen happen to bring us to the present day democracies in the world. This is where world governments seem to adopt a system that appears more ‘humane’.

“The first was like a lion, and it had the wings of an eagle. I watched until its wings were torn off and it was lifted from the ground so that it stood on two feet like a human being, and the mind of a human was given to it. (Dan 7:4)

When it speaks of a lion becoming like a human, it is speaking of a form of government transforming from a beast, as a ruling monarchy, to a man that seeks to rule by conscience from his internal morality – i.e. democracy. What the Apostle Paul calls – the law of the mind (Rom 7:23). However, man is a fallen and broken being, that has in truth become like a beast in his fallen state, so the transformation is more like a beast acting like a man, rather than the original design of man as a moral being.

From this we can understand what the face of a man represents on the living creatures that calls forth the black horse. This is speaking of morality.

The difference between a beast and a man is that the natural way of a beast is only to consider its own interests. It can therefore prey on other creatures without mercy. This is the natural way for a beast. But for a man the ‘law of his mind’ forces him evaluate all his actions against a common standard that demands the highest good of all, not just himself. As a fallen being, man has come to operate as a beast, but he still has that conscience which perpetually condemns him for his selfishness that is proof of his fallen condition.

It is interesting to know that Satan, demons, and every fallen being also have conscience, so their actions of evil are always a source of torment to them as it perpetually reveals their unclean and worthless condition that is only fit for destruction.

Coming back to the living creatures and the horses of the apocalypse. The 100 year prophecy shows the normal order and pattern in which the horses ride, which for the last 40 years is aligned to the decades. In the past this decade alignment is not necessarily the case as that is a prophecy for these end-times, but the pattern and order can still be seen in history – as follows:

Stage 1 – First we find the living creature calling forth the black horse, and it has the face of a Man. This speaks of the development of some ‘moral’ ideology, which tends to precede all that follows.

Stage 2 – The next living creature calls forth the red horse and has the face of an Ox – a creature of sacrifice. What happens is the ideology of the previous stage fails and breaks down into slaughter, or massacre, usually in the form of brutal repression that tries to impose its ideology by force to make it work, which usually means a bloodbath.

Stage 3 – The next living creature calls forth the white horse and has the face of a Lion. This speaks of conquest rising up as the result of the brutal repression of the previous stage in order to bring about a new and better form of government.

Stage 4 – Finally the last living creature calls forth the green horse and has the face of an Eagle. This speaks of two things. First of empire arising from the conquest of the previous stage, as an eagle covers distance and covers a wide area as the territory where it rules and preys. And secondly of a diaspora of people, sometimes by a scattering from conquest, and sometimes as a consequence of empire and movement within it.

Now to cite a few examples of this pattern...

This pattern can easily be seen with Russia and the development of communism as a recent example in history. Eventually the black horse settles down in the north only, which means only Russia, but in the past it spread from Russia, through their ideologues – Marx, Lenin, and others, to many other parts of the world (man – black horse). However, after its abysmal failure in China for example, causing massive famine, it began to move away from its ideology to operate like a capitalist nation, even though it continues as a dictatorship and still claims to adhere to its ideology.

The degradation of that ideology into sometimes brutal oppression is clear in the case of both Russia and China (ox – red horse).

Conquest of the world then ensued as communism tried to become dominant in the world (lion – white horse).

That led to a diaspora, which in this case was largely at least partly of the Jews that fled from Russia to Europe and the western nations like the USA, and of course back to the land of Israel which was reformed in 1948 (eagle – green horse).

Looking further back, and wider afield for this pattern. Take for example the America's. There a brutal religious ideology developed among the indigenous people, such as the Aztecs and the Incas, to appease and control the gods of nature (man – black horse). That led to the practice of brutal human sacrifice (ox – red horse), which eventually led to the unleashing of western forces that brutally massacred those regimes to establish a diaspora of Europeans to the America's and the establishment of new Kingdoms based on different ideologies (lion – white horse). And that led to the colonisation by the conquering nations that formed empires with a diaspora (eagle – green horse).

Then for another example, consider Africa. The ideology was capitalism in Europe (man – black horse), that led to the slave trade for which many were sacrificed (ox – red horse). That led to conquest of armies made possible by the ensuing wealth (lion – white horse). And that to a diaspora of Africans across the globe as slaves (eagle – green horse).

These are a few examples that have different forms, but are significant cases of the repeating cycle in world history that can be seen to have happened at many times and in many places.

Now projecting that same pattern onto this last lap of the horses in the birthing season, we can see that the present 2020's decade is the decade where ideologies emerge. That appears to be both woke ideology, mixed with Islam, which are united by sharing a goal of an ideology of antisemitism against the Jews (man – black horse). This is a strange one as the two elements are not compatible, which guarantees it will fail and will turn into a bloodbath in the end (ox – red horse).

That leads to world conquest as those ideologies seek to impose themselves across the world by force (lion – white horse).

Then projecting that forwards to the 2050's that we already covered, we know something more of what to expect. Again the establishment of an empire, with a diaspora of some kind following the global conflict and conquest of the 2040's which will begin in Europe, but then spread to the world. Which in this case, as this is the final birthing season, will be the empire of the antichrist

What seems clear is that the tribulations of the 2050's will again initially come to centre on Africa for this last lap of the horses, but it will spread from there to the world.

Exactly how it will unfold is yet to be seen, though we are told it will be driven by violence, famine, disease, and wild animals.

Whether Africans are the victims, aggressors, or both at this time is not known, but this is the kind of pattern we can expect to see unfold. What we must realise is that this decade is the last of the birthing season that leads to the final birth, so these times will be difficult to a level not seen before.

However, as I continually seek to remind everyone, the Church will also arise in these times to meet the challenge of restraining the evil that comes to her door as tribulation, and she will emerge powerful and glorious in these times, coming to her full glory at the end of the present age.

33 "I have told you these things, so that in me you may have peace. In this world you will have trouble. But take heart! I have overcome the world." (John 16:33)

27. Footholds & Strongholds

Having taken a look at all the decades to come where the horses of the apocalypse are riding, let's come back to the main horse of the coming decade this book is primarily designed to prepare us for – the 2030's.

We already said the decade of the 2030's is the one where the red horse rides and is the predominant force released in the world.

In truth, the red horse has gone out through the centuries, at various time and in various ways, causing tribulation, but this birthing season is the time when it brings its greatest expression, which is why this birthing season is called The Great Tribulation. That means this ride of the red horse must eclipse all that went before, which in view of history must be considerable.

We previously covered that the purpose of red horse is to take peace from the Earth so men slay each other, for which reason the rider is symbolically given a large sword. (Rev 6:3-4)

We also explained this means people will be taken over by malice, anger, hatred, and violence – as it was in the days of Noah before the judgement of the flood, even though they were still doing all the normal things of family and business. Jesus told us specifically that this is how it will be in the end times (Matt 24:38).

As with all the horses, they are designed to make people look to God and to the Church who represents him, so they can escape these things as they fear them enslaving their own hearts. People need to know they are evil by nature and therefore need to be rescued, restored, and saved. This invasion of malice in the heart serves that purpose and for those that are honest enough to admit it, it causes them to seek help and find salvation.

In the scriptures Jesus made an alignment between anger and murder. They have the same root. At the same time there is such a thing as right (or righteous) anger, as God has it, but we are told not to let it take root and become evil (Eph 4:26-27).

What this scripture tells us is, when you get angry, don't sin. And we are told – don't let the sun go down on your anger – don't let it set. And that comes with the warning that we should not allow it to get a foothold. Then, if we look further in scripture, we see that footholds can develop further and become strongholds, which can even be the precursor to possession.

Thank God that part of the ministry of the Church is the pulling down of strongholds, and we are equipped with mighty spiritual weapons for this much needed task (2 Cor 10:4).

We are also told in the scriptures not to take revenge. We are told vengeance belongs to the Lord, not us, so we must drop our anger and leave any compulsion like that for revenge to him. That doesn't mean there will never be vengeance because God does apply it when he chooses, but he is a merciful being that always seeks rather to forgive, so it is our job to fall in line with that and do the same where we can.

Generally the rule for us is always to do the ‘good’ thing – the thing that is for the highest good for any and all people, no matter how mean and nasty they have been to us. That means maintaining a good heart and desire towards others, whatever we do. What it doesn’t mean is we should ignore every wrong and not make a right response or expose it, but that response must be whatever we judge to be for the highest good, and we are under an obligation to always ask God for wisdom and listen to him on what that is (James 1:5).

In our times we have seen the development of ideas where people see themselves as having a higher morality by punishing no-one and foregoing justice in the name of tolerance. Such ideas in our time have been accompanied by godlessness, which we are also told is great foolishness.

God does in fact require us to defend and protect the innocent, and implement justice. Any ideas that seek to bypass that responsibility will create real injustice, and injustice is a thing that tends to provoke anger and violence like almost nothing else does.

What is our defence against all this?

The defence of the Church is both prevention and cure. For defence we are given the armour of God (Ep 6), and weapons of prayer and intercession, along with the gifts of the Spirit. The cure is the ministry of deliverance, or as some alternatively call it – exorcism. Generally exorcism is associated with possession, but we speak of deliverance as dealing with footholds, strongholds, and possession.

The reality is, behind invasions of anger in the soul are demons where it has gone beyond the God given bounds. For the church, we have the power to cast these demons out, but for those who need deliverance they must want it. For example they must be prepared to forgive, or at least be ready to allow Christians to pray for them to be able to forgive. They may also need to renounce the demons and the problem of anger, making a choice and confession to reject it.

Along with the ministry of deliverance, we have a gift from God that is similar to prophecy called – the discerning of spirits. These gifts are available for those believers that ask God for them. They are designed to reveal to us the root problems we are dealing with.

Jesus himself delivered people from evil, and he led his disciples to do the same. Then before his ascension he instructed us to take that ministry on to deliver all that need it, along with bringing healing to the sick and infirm.

These ministries have been functioning ever since in the Church, even though there have been ongoing battles to make Christians neglect them or deny them, and to push them out of the Church, thereby divesting them of power. Generally this is done by those claiming or implying this ministry is the action of demons, as they did for Jesus, whereas in reality it is these ideas that deny this ministry of deliverance that are a doctrine of demons, giving demons permission to remain undetected.

When it comes to demons, one warning we have from Jesus is that if we cast them out, they will come back if they are able, and they can even make a person many times worse.

For that reason it is essential to close the door on any demons in the life of a person, once they are cast out, and the key thing for doing that is for them to come to Christ and to be made a new creature in him.

If people are not willing to take that step then it is usually better not to deliver them, in which case we don't have another answer, except perhaps to see they are locked up when they can no longer contain their malice so they commit crime.

As we come to these end-times, it is essential the Church provides this service to the world. We already discussed how the purpose of the Church is to push back the tide of evil in the end-times as part of their ministry to the world through prayer, intercession, and deliverance. It is all part of the good news gospel of salvation.

Just as the evil of our day, caused by the red horse, will eclipse all that went before, so we can expect the deliverance ministry to be more powerful than anything seen before. Jesus even said some will come along and do greater exploits than he did, so that will be something great to see, and in our day, with modern technology, it will be broadcast far and wide, as it is already if we take the time to look for it.

Along with the anger and conflict caused by the red horse, there are many spiritual strongholds of different kinds that the enemy has been able to establish in the lives of people. Some through dark arts, like witchcraft and the like, but also curses, sometimes coming down through the generational line. It is the work of the Church to overturn and undo all the work of the evil one in this world, no matter what form it takes (Luke 10:19).

What all this says to us is that no Christian should be taking a negative view of the end-times, but rather as the time of their greatest victory.

Powerless Churches may not agree with this, but these end-times are designed to even shake them out of their religious malaise so they can then join the battle in a greater way.

28. Final Words & Summary

Let me say finally...

We are in the end-times, where since the year 2020 the birthing season has begun. This will not stop until the birth takes place, beyond which God will evacuate the Church in the rapture, and the time of wrath and vengeance of God will come on the world.

None of us want to be here when that happens. Nor do we want any human being to go through it. We therefore need to accept the way God is drawing these times to their conclusion, with tribulations that will make people seek after God.

Every Christian has a part to play in that. This 2020's decade has been like the storm with Jesus in the boat, resting, for those that understand the times. That will continue to the end of the decade, but the rest and peace of God that is released will continue to the end of the age.

In the 2020's the black horse has been riding, so the first book of this series is the black book, where Russia is reduced to scarcity so it can't make more trouble in the world.

This 2nd book has focused on the 2030's when the red horse will ride, and peace will be taken from the Earth so there is anger and violence, where men slay each other.

The task of the church in these times is to restrain evil and harvest as many souls as possible during the last-days harvest.

For the church, this is the most glorious time of all as it will be powerful and victorious against every enemy, even in martyrdom for some that are appointed to it and prepared by God for it.

As we approach the end, the tribulation in the world must eclipse all that came before. But at the same time people will continue to try to live normal lives, only to be caught out when Christ returns when they don't expect him, or declare they don't believe in his coming (2 Peter 3:4).

While this is happening, the Church will rise to become all it was ever meant to be. A key part of that is for the Church to realise the truth of God's GRACE and thereby discover the power.

The prophetic ministry will continue to rise and become greater in these times, so all of God's children are fully informed and able to remain in the place of rest and the blessings God has released to the Church. More revelation will follow as it is needed to sustain the Church and give her victory in these times.

GOD BLESS YOU AS YOU CONTINUE TO TRUST HIM.

APPENDIX 1 – Becoming a Christian

This is the appendix I mentioned in the preface that I added for the benefit of those that have little or no experience of spiritual life or prophecy, and for those that have no faith in these things.

If that is you then let me first welcome you. I am about to explain some things that may have escaped your life experience until this point, so I am hoping you will realise that this book is no work of fiction but is in fact based in realities that are firmer than anything you have yet encountered.

Prophecy, which is what you will read about in this book, is what we Christians call a gift of the Spirit – meaning a gift from the Spirit of God, which simply means it is from God.

This gift does not stand alone but it is one of a number of gifts that God gives to his people that are in constant use by many Christian believers out there who have discovered them. In fact the real gift that many have discovered is that of the indwelling of the Spirit of God himself by whom these things come, and the fact that he can fill our whole being with his presence, if we let him.

Those who have discovered this truth are living a whole new kind of life. You may never have heard it put this way before but that is the truth of what is going on under the radar in the lives of many Christian people.

One thing the Bible says is that 'the sons of God are led by the Spirit of God' (Read Romans chapter 8 in the Bible). People who have the Holy Spirit within them really are living a different kind of life – something Jesus called an 'abundant life' or 'life in all of its fullness', and in fact to become a son as this describes does in fact depend of whether we have that experience of God.

At this point I hear two main questions coming up from many of you as you read this. One is – How do I get this experience? And the other is – Is this really real? Let me answer this last question first as that clearly needs to be resolved before you can contemplate the other.

As I said earlier, prophecy is just one gift of the Spirit. Another is healing, and another is miracles.

In about 2006 I began an adventure with these gifts on the streets of various cities in the UK. I already believed in them because I had read and believed what it said about it in the Bible, but this was where I actually began to do it in a significant way.

It began with me watching short leg bones lengthen and broken bones heal almost instantly as somebody prayed for them in the name of Jesus.

In fact the first such healing or miracle I saw myself through my own prayers was of knuckles regrow into the fingers of a man who had an accident with a circular saw seven years earlier and he had severed his forefinger and middle finger, but the surgeons had stitched them back on.

The knuckles were destroyed so the fingers were useless, but during prayer for his healing I watched his fingers first change from white to red as his blood flow was restored, and then the knuckles grew back into his fingers and he began to bend them, which would have been impossible because his tendons had been severed.

In truth one of his fingers remained stiff even though it had straightened and blood flow was restored, but that is the kind of mystery we learned we sometimes encounter, which is something I won't get into here. My point is, this is another gift of the Spirit which in this case is convincing as it involves actual physical bone growth, and since then I have seen all manner of physical conditions healed, often instantly.

Healings and miracles of this kind have been verified by doctors, and nowadays there are many examples of it actually filmed and released on YouTube.

Is the gift of healing real? – I offer you an emphatic yes and I can't think of what better evidence to offer you of this than solid bone growth.

In the same way, prophecy is also just as real. In fact the Bible suggests it is the greatest of the gifts, even above healing and miracles.

If you need more proof than my word on this then you have to dig it out for yourself. The experience is there to be had if you look for it.

As many Christians know, prophecy does not always foretell the future as some think. In fact prophecy can be simply defined as God speaking through his people. Often it simply takes the form of encouragement, which should not be surprising because God is an amazing parent who cares for us with everything we need to live and thrive.

Sometimes, however, prophecy does point the way to the future, and this is certainly the case in many of the Bible prophecies, but it also happens frequently in the use of the gift among believers who have God's Spirit within them.

That brings me to the first question I believe many of you who read this book will be asking – How do I get this experience of God's Spirit within?

Do you have to become 'religious'? – No.

Do you have to begin to live a good life? – No, because you can't. All you can do is submit yourself to God to make you good. Becoming good by yourself is more of an impossibility for you than you may realise because the real problem we all have is more of the heart than the behaviour.

Those things we do that show we are beings with a real problem stem from the heart so it is the heart that must be changed for real goodness to begin to emerge – and this is true for every one of us.

Outward behaviour does not solve that problem. It has to be dealt with within, and that is not something you can do for yourself – it requires another miracle, but one that many experience every single day in our age.

In short the reality is – God must do it, but he will only do that when you invite it because he doesn't simply muscle in on our lives and force himself upon us without our consent.

He gave you sovereign free will over your own life so you get to decide what happens with it. Therefore this must be a choice that you make for it to happen.

Is God willing to do it for you? Emphatically YES! In truth he is longing for you to make that kind of surrender. He loves you. You are his creature. But like all others you are broken and need to be fixed.

As the one who made you he knows how to do it and he has put everything in place, which was quite a costly thing I might add. If you look at what Jesus suffered on the cross to make it possible you will realise that is the measure of just how much God does love you and just how far he is prepared to go to restore you to what he made you to be.

God has done his part, but now you must do yours, and it is done by turning to God and inviting him to come in – though one thing I must add – this must be a wholehearted decision for you. It must be a decision to give your whole life to him so you too can be led by the Spirit of God.

For me, as one who has been living that life for more than 47 years now I can tell you it is an exciting thing – life in all its fullness. But it is also at times extremely challenging because God goes to work on us to transform us completely – how we think, how we live, what we love, what we enjoy, what we do.

As I said, he is your maker and he knows what you were made for. All that will be recovered if you choose to walk this path, but you must be ready to leave your old life behind because this one will be entirely new.

Those old problems you have may not instantly disappear, but you must set yourself against the things you know are wrong. That is what we call repentance, and it is an important choice to make.

God is the one that is committed to do that work in you and it will be a lifelong experience where he works on one thing after another, with the promise of eternal life hereafter.

For myself, I wouldn't have it any other way. His ideas are always so much better than mine. The greatest thing about this is what you will enter into is not 'religion', but a personal relationship with God, and that is the most valuable thing in the world. Like an unbreakable marriage, he promises never to leave you or forsake you, and with God he never breaks his promises.

You may need a little time to think this over, but if you decide to go ahead then what you need to do is simply but sincerely pray a prayer like this, and mean what it says. If you are ready to do that then this is all it takes. Here goes:

Prayer...

Dear God, I realise I have been living my own life until now, but now I want to surrender my life to you so I can live the life you are offering me. I here and now turn away from all that I know is wrong and ask you to forgive me for my sin. Thank you for what Jesus did for me on the cross. Please come into my heart today. I give my life to you. Please give me your Holy Spirit and come and live in me. Make me your child today, right now I ask. Thank you for your promise to save me. I now commit my life to you. Amen.
